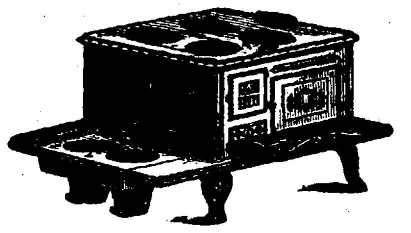
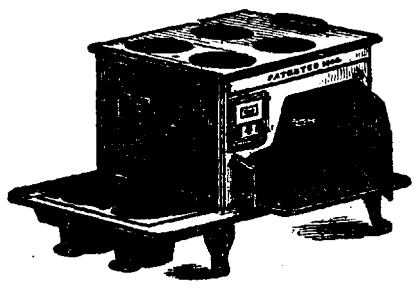
B. W. OAKLEY,

THANKFUL for the favors of the past, would respectfully inform his old customers and the public generally that his Fall and Winter supply has in part arrived, and is still coming: so that by the close of navigation all demands for the season can be promptly filled.

STOVES.



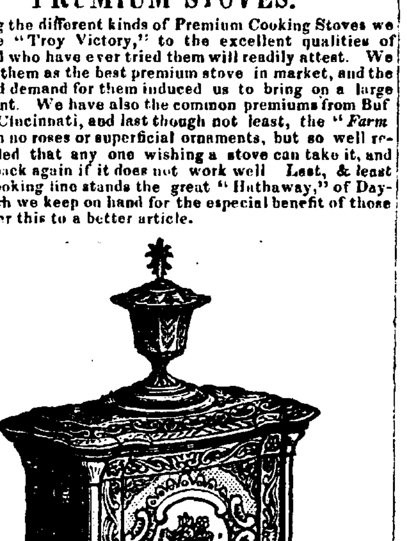
We place the "IMPERIAL AIR TIGHT" first; because we consider them decidedly foremost in the way of all stoves.



The "UNITED STATES AIR TIGHT" is next, tho' many consider them equal, if not superior to those above—and with them may be classed the Washington and Troy Air Tights and the Quackenboss Air Tights, of Albany.

PREMIUM STOVES.

Among the different kinds of Premium Cooking Stoves we have the "Troy Victory," to the excellent qualities of which all who have ever tried them will readily attest. We selected them as the best premium stove in market, and the increased demand for them induced us to bring on a large assortment. We have also the common premiums from Buffalo and Cincinnati, and last though not least, the "Farmer," with no roses or superficial ornaments, but so well recommended that any one wishing a stove can take it, and bring it back again if it does not work well. Last, & least in the Cooking line stands the great "Hathaway," of Dayton, which we keep on hand for the especial benefit of those who prefer this to a better article.



Parlor Stoves of Cast or Sheet Iron, Dining Room Stoves, Shop and Store Room Stoves of all varieties and sizes from a meeting house to a 10 by 12.

In connection with our Stove trade we have added a small but well selected assortment of Castings and Hardware.

Consisting in the main of all the most essential and necessary articles used by farmers and mechanics.

POETRY.

THE LAY OF THE EMBLEMS.

Oh! beauty glows in the island Rose,
The fair sweet English flower—
And Memory weaves in her emblem-leaves
Proud legends of Fame and Power!

The Thistle nods forth from the hills of the north,
O'er Scotia free and fair—
And hearts warm and true and bonnets blue,
And Prowess and Faith are there!

Green Erin's dell loves the Shamrock well!
As it springs to the March sun's smile—
"Love—Valor—Wit" ever blend in it,
Bright type of our own dear Isle!

But the fair forest-land where our free hearths stand,
Tho' her annals be rough and brief—
O'er her fresh wild woods and her thousand floods
Rears for emblem "The Maple-Leaf."

Then hurrah for the Leaf—the Maple Leaf!
U, Foresters! heart and hand;
High in heaven's free air waves your emblem fair—
The pride of the Forest-land!

HOPE.

The world may change from old to new,
From new to old again;
Yet hope and Heaven, forever true,
Within man's heart remain.
The dreams that bless the weary soul,
The struggles of the strong,
Are steps toward some happy soil,
The story of some Hope's song.

Hope leads the child to plant the flower,
The man to sow the seed;
Nor leave fulfilment to the hour,
But prompts again to deed.
And ere upon the old man's dust
The grass is seen to wave,
We look through fallen tears, to trust
Hope's sunshine on the grave.

Oh, no! it is no flattering lure,
No fancy weak or fond,
When hope would bid us rest secure,
In better life beyond.
Nor loss, nor shame, nor grief, nor sin,
His promise can gainsay;
The voice divine has spoke within,
And God did ne'er betray.

FRIENDSHIP.

BY AUGUSTUS ELLIS.

Soft zephyrs on the mountain sides,
Which singing come and pass,
In quest of violets for their brides,
Sweet flow'rets veiled in grass;
And blue-bells on the shaded lawn,
That cluster in a row
And softly chime at morning's dawn,
Are fair and fine I know;
But all their charms cannot transcend
The tender smile of loving friend.

Not he who checks the angry look,
The cold and harsh reply,
Shall want a friend or sheltering nook
When life's dread storms are nigh;
Yet while the heart is moaning drear,
And like a matchless dove,
O how we prize the words that cheer
From Sympathy and Love!
Not thus can Wealth, or Beauty's glow
Arouse to joy the heart of woe.

The roses of the cheek will fade,
And care shall dim the eye;
The snowy breast of laughing maid
Must give the heaving sigh,
The gleeful shout of youngster gay
Old age's power can hush,
And gems that yield the darting ray,
The hand of time may crush;
But fresh in amaranthine bloom,
Sweet Friendship will outlive the tomb.

The funeral dirge, the tolling bell,
The sable hearse of gloom,
And tears that weep the last farewell,
May tell our friend's cold doom;
Then let each loving gift we prize,
As holy relics dear,
And memory from our streaming eyes
Let fall the frequent tear;
While Faith and Hope go hand in hand,
To meet them in the spirit land.

New Invention for Surgeons—Collodion.—A French chemist having found that gun cotton was soluble in ether, it has been proved that this substance can be advantageously employed as an agglutinative, capable of rendering immense service in surgery. In fact, by its promptitude in drying, and its property of being impermeable to water, this liquid, a combination of gun cotton and ether, which is dignified by the scientific name of Collodion, is a powerful auxiliary in the dressing of wounds. The following are the advantages offered by the use of Collodion:

1. By its powerful contraction, during evaporation, Collodion draws the edge of a wound much closer than can be obtained either by suture or adhesive plaster. It exercises an equal degree of pressure throughout the whole extent of the wound, and the union is permanent.

2. It preserves the wound completely from all contact with the air, through its impermeability.

3. It possesses no irritating quality in regard to the skin and the lips of the wound, which is far from being the case with other adhesive preparation; and renders sutures unnecessary for uniting the edges of a wound, whatever may be its extent.

4. It remains in contact with the skin, until the moment of cicatrization.

5. It is impermeable to water, consequently admitting washing often as is deemed fit.

6. It is without color and transparent, so that the surgeon can always observe what is going on beneath, without removing it.

7. Its application does not require the employment of heat; cold merely retards a little the evaporation of the ether.

8. Its price is moderate.

Certainly a very elegant therapeutic agent. A slight layer of this transparent substance, placed over an ulcer, serves as a glassy medium, which, whilst it protects it from the hurtful action of the air, permits the eye to follow all the process of cure. If any peculiar circumstances affecting the patient require it, a little ether suffice to dissolve the collodion and remove all.

South Carolina Preparing for a "Crisis."—South Carolina is something like the news from abroad, which of late represents all parts of Europe as ripe for a revolution. South Carolina never goes so far as to perpetrate a revolution, but she is always big with a "crisis." Her period must be near, for we see that the political doctors have been holding a consultation, the result of which is that the blessings of the "peculiar institution" must be extended to the new territories. To prevent the free States interposing a veto, they have formed "Committees of Safety and Correspondence" throughout the Commonwealth. These local committees of the different districts are to meet in State Convention at the Capital on the first Monday in May, for the purpose of perfecting a thorough organization to communicate their designs. Some of the South Carolina papers state that they meditate on proposals of non-intercourse with the North.—We opine that there will be long and serious meditation upon such proposals before they are adopted.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—The citizens of this State are as busily engaged, plotting against Freeman, as they were in the hottest days of Nullification plotting against the Union.—Meetings are being held in all the districts, at which Slavery is lauded and the Wilmot Proviso denounced. All sorts of plans are proposed to stop the march of Freedom. Among the measures proposed are "non-intercourse with the North"—Slavery extension by force of arms." Committees of safety are appointed, who are instructed not to publish their proceedings.

At a public dinner in Edgefield, got up in compliment to Senator Butler, Mr. Calhoun's colleague in the Senate, the following toast was warmly responded to:

Slavery.—As it exists in the southern States, it is the best organization of human labor, and sanctioned by morality and the Constitution, we must be convinced, and subdued before we yield it to pragmatic fanaticism or insolent aggression.

What do the hardy yeomanry of Ohio, the men who live by the sweat of their brow, say to this? This insolent and infamous language comes from the petty despots of South Carolina, who are living on the unrequited toil of the laborers, and is almost identical with that uttered on the floor of the U. S. Senate, by Gen. Davis, a son-in-law of Gen. Taylor, who declared the best relation between labor and capital to be that where THE CAPITALISTS OWNED THE LABORERS.

The man or the party, who would degrade or impoverish the laborer, is the worst enemy of his race, and ought to be so regarded.—Toledo Republican.

INDIANA.—The Taylor Republicans of this State are without a candidate for Governor.—They nominated a candidate, who would not stand fire. Under this state of embarrassment arising from want of a suitable candidate, Greely advised the whigs to vote for James H. Cravens, the candidate of the Free Democracy. But the Administration press of Indiana, very generally scout at the idea. The objection urged against Mr. Cravens is, that he is a Free Soil whig, instead of a Taylor whig. Before election the same papers declared themselves to be Free Soil Whigs to the back bone.

☞ What has produced so sudden a change? Have the "Frowns" of Gen. Tay scared free siolism out of the Indiana whigs?—Toledo Republican.

High Tariff an Obsolete Idea.—The Hartford Courant, an orthodox whig paper, publishes the letter of a correspondent, a "distinguished gentleman in Massachusetts," advocating the claims of Abbot Lawrence, as Secretary of the Treasury. The writer makes the following admission, which is important to manufacturers and others advocating a protective tariff, as showing what the prevailing sentiment is in New England:

"The fact unquestionably is, that Mr. Lawrence, however he may have favored former tariffs, and the protective system of former days, is not a high tariff man. THE DAY OF HIGH TARIFFS HAS GONE BY. They have done their work; they have given us the requisite skill, and concentrated the capital in such a manner upon manufacturers, that the country can now breast competition with a range of duties not higher than is needed for revenue purposes. There is no high tariff party in the country. The whig party—the great body of New England manufacturers—do not desire a scale of duties higher than the average of the present tariff."

DEMOCRATIC REJOICING.—A salute was fired at Boston on Monday, by the democrats, proclaiming their satisfaction at the removal of Marcus Morton, democrat, from the collectorship of that port. The Post, the leading democratic paper, says:

"If Mr. Polk and Mr. Walker had done their duty faithfully, we should not have been dependent upon General Taylor and Mr. Meredith for a favor we now most gratefully acknowledge."

Taylorism.—The New York Tribune's correspondent says, "all offices which can by any possibility have a controlling influence over elections will be filled by whigs." What else is this but an impudent announcement of the determination of the administration to appoint men to office for the express purpose of controlling the elections? Those who refuse to obey orders and aid whiggery, will be "frowned" upon, and dismissed for that "cause," by the no party President.—Ohio Statesman.

Another bit of History.—It will doubtless be recollected by our readers, says the Pennsylvanian, that the celebrated letter of General Taylor to General Gaines, was furnished to the New York Express by Dr. Bacon, now the responsible editor of the New York Day Book. From certain remarks contained in that paper of Tuesday, we infer that Dr. Bacon corrected and revised it, so as, as he intimates, to make it fit for publication. We extract two paragraphs:

"The original letter of General Taylor to General Gaines, was much worse written than the worst thing ever printed with his signature. It afforded conclusive evidence that though he wrote his celebrated 'despatches,' somebody must have corrected them before they were despatched.

"If any person deny this, the public can be furnished with examples of the original uncorrected English of the letter, compared with the version or paraphrase given by the editor of the Day Book, which General Taylor has so promptly claimed as his own production."

☞ It seems that Mr. Nathaniel Albertson is Judge Embree's opponent in the first district for Congress. From all we can learn, the two candidates are honest, upright men.

This nomination and the hints we have lately had, have caused us, in some degree, to think that some of the political wire-workers have thought it necessary to make, in some cases, church membership a test of fitness for office. The nomination of Wright and Embree for Governor, and since Mr. Embree's declination to run for Governor, there is brot' out against him for Congress not Robert Dale Owen, the learned democrat of the State, but Mr. Albertson, a member of the same church as Mr. Embree. We thought we had noticed a squinting that way on account of "availability" and we mentioned the subject to a minister. He is of the same opinion, and with us, despises the practice. We must say that, while we like to see men moral and religious, we do not like to see it "stick out" quite so strong, that they must be members of any particular church to ensure an election.—Vincennes Gazette, Whig.

Mr. Lindley, a celebrated London Professor, says "there is not a single gardener who is master of his profession who does not know how injurious a high nocturnal temperature is to plants. The coolness of night is to plants what sleep is to animals. This law may to some extent be violated for a time, but the plants cannot, on pain of loss of life, be deprived of their proper period of repose."

From the Albany Cultivator.

How to raise Thirty bushels of Wheat per Acre where you could not raise Twenty before.

EDS. CULTIVATOR: Where you have a good clover sod, let the clover grow until the first week in June; then take a good team and plough, and turn the clover all under, then roll the sod down flat, and let it lay eight or ten days; then take a light harrow or cultivator, and pulverize the ground fine, and about the 25th of June sow two and a half bushels of corn to the acre, and after harrowing it well, roll it down smooth. About the last week in August, take your roller and press the corn down as flat as possible, going round with the roller the same way you intend to plough the land; then plough the land as deep as possible, and turn all the corn under; follow with the roller, pressing all down flat. Thus you have two crops well mixed with the soil for manure.

Then take a light harrow or cultivator, and pulverize the ground fine, and sow your wheat about the middle of September, and if you do not have one-third more wheat than you do when you summer follow, tell me I am mistaken in a cheap method of manuring land.—The corn will grow so thick that it will keep every other plant down, and leave the ground clean, and if there are a few small leaves of the corn scratched up with the harrow, it will afford a good top dressing for the wheat.
IRA HOPKINS.
Auburn, Sept. 22, '48.

Peaches.—A gentleman handed us yesterday the following, which may be of service to some of our readers: A friend of mine has just informed me of the success he met with by the application of charcoal to peach trees. A few years ago he had some fine peach trees in his garden which invariably had wormy fruit, and the trees were full of gum. When the fruit was about the size of marbles he had the earth removed from each about two feet round and three inches deep, and filled with charcoal. The result was that the fruit grew to a fine size, free from worms; and every year since the fruit has been good, and the trees became healthy and free from gum, while two trees left without the charcoal continue to bear wormy fruit and are unhealthy.

Washing Clothes.—We publish to-day for the benefit of the ladies, the greatest recipe for washing clothes ever yet published. By this process one hand can do as much as three hands on the old method, and do it much better. Be sure to keep this recipe. If you file our paper, mark round the recipe with a pen and ink; if not, cut this recipe out, and paste it up in your wash-house:—

Recipe—Take good home-made soft soap, 4 lbs.; borax, refined, 4 ounces; common salt, 3 ounces; water, 7 pints. Boil slowly to cake soap; The bottom or sediment will do for the common washing about a kitchen.

Process.—1. Wet the clothes thoroughly.—2. Rub the grease and dirty spots with some of the soap. 3. Boil the clothes in strong soap suds of the above soap, for thirty minutes.—4. Rinse the clothes three times well in clean water.—Washington (Pa.) Comp.

Chilblains, or Frosted Feet.—Mix in a glass vial, a quarter of an ounce of pure muriatic acid with two ounces of water. Wet a piece of sponge or soft cloth with the liquid and gently bathe the parts that have been frozen.—Let it dry on, and wrap the feet in bandages, or draw on a pair of old stockings to keep the bed linen from contact with the acid, which will drop into holes wherever it is touched by it. This speedily cools the inflammation, allays the intensely painful itching, and, when the frost is not very deep, it cures by a few applications.

When the chilblains are of long standing, and the skin has cracked, or when sores are formed, the first two or three bathings are apt to cause a smarting pain that is somewhat discouraging to persons unacquainted with the virtues of this simple remedy; but if they will persevere they will be rewarded by a complete cure.

The Water Cure for Chills and Fever.

The senior editor of the Lafayette Journal, during a recent visit to Cincinnati, had a severe attack of the chills and fever. He was staying at the time at the Henrie House, and Mr. Cook, the gentlemanly assistant of the establishment, took his case promptly in hand, and by the vigorous use of the shower bath broke the chill and restored the patient to health. The "Senior" thus describes the course of treatment:

"And now, as the season of chills and fever has certainly arrived, let me describe my young friend Cook's mode of treatment, that others, profiting by my experience, may learn their most thorough and effectual cure. Notwithstanding my utter repugnance to the remedy, he took the matter into his own hands, and literally dragged me from my bed, forced me under a shower bath, while the chill was full on me, my lips, nose, and fingers purple; my teeth chattering, and my whole convulsed body giving terrible evidence of the severe nature of the malady. There he held me changing my positions under the drip for more than a minute—AND THE CHILL WAS GONE! It was the second, and of congestive type, that I had had in the space of five hours.

"Next, he put me under warm blankets.—I slept for over an hour. Visiting me at this junction, and finding the fever to be consuming me, he again pulled me out of bed, and forced me a second time under the bath. In less than 5 minutes, all traces of the fever had disappeared; and the bath, from having at first been horrible beyond description, became delightful; and I could have stood under it for hours, wooing the droppings of its congenial waters. The consequence was, I came out a restored man!

"Thus much for the benefit of my friends and neighbors, and as a tribute of affection to my generous hearted young friend The "HENRIE HOUSE" is among the best in the city, and I can recommend it without a single qualm of conscience."

☞ Intolerance in the matters of religious belief, appears still to linger in the bosom of the Old Bay State—and to exhibit itself, not unfrequently in acts akin to those that stain the earlier pages of its history. The Massachusetts House of Representatives have rejected a bill to charter "the College of the Holy Cross" at Worcester—not because there was any thing in the proposed charter which every collegiate institution in the State has not had granted to it—not because the bill gave to this college any thing beyond a corporate name and being—or beyond the mere facilities which a charter gives in perpetuity, for transacting its purely business affairs—but simply because the corporators were Roman Catholics, and had the good or the ill fortune to differ from a majority of the Legislature in matters of faith! But what else could be expected of a State where orthodoxy assume infallibility—and where the burning of convents by mobs, if it does not go unpunished, at least passes unredressed at the hands of the Legislature.—Albany Argus.

ELECTRIC LIGHT—A Substitute for Lamps.—The idea of producing lights, says the Puritan, that should displace the use of lamps by means of the galvanic battery, is not new, as attempts to propel machinery by steam were made long before steam boats were made. But now electrical lights give promise soon of being a practical reality. We have previously alluded to the experiments in progress in London, by Mr. Staite. He has brought his apparatus to produce such results as to have created no small panic in the gas companies in London. His apparatus consists of an ordinary Voltaic battery, having a hundred cells. To each wire or pole is attached a piece of carbon, artificially prepared. The light is produced by first bringing the points of these two pieces into contact, and then setting them a small distance apart—the distance varying with the intensity of the electric current. His model battery produces a light equal to eight hundred wax candles; and what is especially wonderful about it is, that all this is done at less than no expense. The apparatus is actually making money while it produces the light; for the materials used in the battery to excite the electrical action, undergo a chemical change, which enhances their value as an article of merchandise. This invention unquestionably promises the most important results.

How to dislodge a Fish-bone from the Throat.—It sometimes happens that a fish-bone accidentally swallowed will remain in the œsophagus and occasion serious inconvenience; in fact, instances have been known where so much irritation had arisen that death followed. In such cases, it is advisable, as soon as possible, to take four grains of tartar emetic dissolved in one half pint of warm water and immediately afterwards the white of six eggs.—The coagulated mass will not remain in the stomach more than two or three minutes, and the probability is that the bone will be ejected with the contents of the stomach. If tartar emetic is not to be found conveniently, a teaspoonful of mustard dissolved in milk-warm water and swallowed will answer the same purpose.—Scientific American.

Another Cure for the Cholera.—A correspondent of the London Times sends the following extract from a letter stating the treatment of cholera, successfully practiced in the government of Kioffe, Russia:

"I have upwards of three hundred people at work, and the cholera all around us and amongst us; sixty of my people were taken ill, but the great matter is to take the disease at the beginning, so I called them together and explained the symptoms, which are loss of appetite, a heaviness and a disagreeable sensation at the pit of the stomach. I immediately administered to those who were seized, one glass and a half of spirits of wine in a glass of water, with four or five teaspoonsful of powdered charcoal, and three drops of oil of mint, and the patient took violent exercise until a strong perspiration was induced, and all my patients recovered; those who were weakly I administered the charcoal to in a fresh egg beat up with a little water, milk warm.

"For myself, as an antidote, I take every morning a fresh egg, beat up with a teaspoonful of charcoal; I make the charcoal from white beech, but any wood that is free from rosin will do."

Music in the Family.—Encourage a taste for music in your children. It is a grand aid to refinement and happiness. If you can afford it, give your children a choice of instruments—piano, harp, and guitar for the girls, and the violin, violoncello, and flute for the boys. But do not neglect the organ which nature has bestowed upon every one. If parents will sing, their children follow their example, and, in our opinion, a good musical family may bid defiance to consumption, because singing strengthens the lungs.—Phila. City Item.

A Good Salve.—Take an egg and boil it hard, then take out the yolk and fry it in half a tablespoonful of clean lard for about five minutes, and you have an excellent salve. It is especially good for sore nipples, and requires just to be rubbed on as occasion may require.

One of our subscribers sends us the above from Hamilton county, Ohio, and we must say that it is a good salve. We have seen it tried and judge of its merits from practical experience.

SPEECH MAKING.—We regard failure in a speech as merely indicating weakness in the organ of language, one of the lower faculties, common to all brute nature, and not one of the highest and exclusively human, as some of the ignorant suppose. Men of the highest intellectual order are sometimes deficient in language, while some of the most fluent are sometimes deficient in intellectual power.—Some of the ablest writers are feeble speakers, and some of the most fluent speakers cannot write. And some gigantic minds can neither write nor speak fluently, while some feeble thinkers can write or declaim "eloquently." Washington could not speak, and once "broke down" in attempting to speak in the Continental Congress. Jefferson was no orator, and never made speeches, though a distinguished leader in legislative bodies. Yet with this oratorical deficiency, Washington & Jefferson were men of some intellectual power, and really did something in the Revolution.—Some have even regarded them as superior to John Randolph, or Fisher Ames, or Tristram Burgess, or Henry A. Wise, or George McDuffie, men celebrated for—talk, or as it is sometimes pronounced—gab, or gammon.—Pa. Ledger.

Slavery Eighty Years ago.—Eighty years ago, slavery existed in Massachusetts, and was there practised, by some, as cruelly as now on the worst sugar plantations of Louisiana. Mrs. Child, in her history of Woman, says: "A wealthy lady residing in Gloucester, Massachusetts, was in the habit of giving away the infants of her female slaves a few days after they were born, as people are accustomed to dispose of a litter of kittens.—One of her neighbors begged an infant, which in these days of comparative simplicity, she nourished with her own milk, and reared among her own children. This woman had an earnest desire for a brocade gown, and her husband not feeling able to purchase one, she sent her little nursling to Virginia, and sold her, when she was about seven years old."—Yet the people of Massachusetts, like the English, have less charity now for slave holders than perhaps any other of the citizens of the United States. Such is human nature.

GREAT SPEED.—A first class express engine has been placed on the York and Newcastle railway, England, which has taken the express train from York to Darlington, in forty minutes, a distance of forty-five miles; and it is further computed (from results already known) that when the new rails are laid down on this portion of the railway, his engine will accomplish the distance with perfect ease in the short space of half an hour, being at the surprising rate of ninety miles an hour.

Examination of Attorneys.—A correspondent send us the following racy examination of a candidate for admission to the Bar. It is taken from the Western Law Journal, and will be called a good hit:

Examiner.—Do you smoke? Can.—I do, sir. Ex.—Have you a spare cigar? Can.—Yes, sir. (extending a short six.) Ex.—Now, sir, what is the first duty of a lawyer? Can.—To collect fees. Ex.—What is the second? Can.—To increase the number of his clients. Ex.—When does your position toward your client change? Can.—When making up a bill of costs. Ex.—Explain! Can.—We then occupy the antagonist position—I assume the character of plaintiff and he becomes defendant. Ex.—A suit decided, how do you stand with the lawyer conducting the other bill? Can.—Cheek by jowl. Ex.—Enough, sir, you promise to be an ornament to your profession, and I wish you success.—Now, are you aware of the duty you owe me? Can.—Perfectly. Ex.—Describe the duty. Can.—It is to invite you to drink. Ex.—But suppose I decline? Can.—(scratching his head.)—There is no instance of the kind on record in the books, I cannot answer that question. Ex.—You are right, and the confidence with which you make the assertion shows that you have read the law attentively, let's take the drinks and I will sign your certificate.

SCRAPS AND ODDITIES.

"Whose pigs are these my lad?" "Whoy they belong to that there big sow." "No! I mean who is their master?" "Whoy," again answered the lad, "that little 'un there; he's a rare 'un to fight."

"How do you like General Taylor?" was asked a whig a few days since. "First rate," replied the old coon; "he turns out a great deal better than we expected."

'You Zeke!' 'What, ma?' 'Have you sanded your teeth and tallowed your hair?'—'Yes, ma.' 'Tarred your boots and corked your eyebrows?' 'Yes, ma.' 'Then teasle your hat and go to meeting.—we must be as fashionable as our neighbors.'

"Ma," said an inquisitive little girl, "will rich and poor people live together when they go to heaven?" "Yes, my dear, they will all be alike there." Then ma, why don't rich and poor Christians associate together here?" The mother did not answer.

☞ It is sad when the existence of a great party depends upon the popular belief of a lie.—Journal.

And yet, this is the only existence the whig party ever had.—Ohio Statesman.

Influence of a Smile.—It is related in the life of a celebrated mathematician, William Hutton, that a respectable looking countrywoman called upon him one day, anxious to speak with him. She told him with an air of secresy, that her husband treated her unkindly, and sought other company, frequently passing his evenings from home, which made her feel extremely unhappy, and knowing Mr. Hutton to be a wise man, she thought he might be able to tell her how she could manage to cure her husband.

The cause was a common one, and he thought he could prescribe for it without losing his reputation as a conjuror. "The remedy is a simple one," said he, "and I have never known it to fail. Always meet your husband with a smile."

The woman expressed her thanks, dropped a curtesy, and went away. A few months afterwards she waited on Mr. Hutton, with a couple of fowls, which she begged him to accept. She told him, while a tear of joy and gratitude glistened in her eye, that she had followed his advice, and her husband was cured. He no longer sought the company of others, but treated her with constant love and kindness.

Jealousy—Revenge.—Some years since, says the Louisville Democrat of yesterday, a man residing in Patriot, Ind., married a young lady residing in the same place. After they had been married some five years the parties were blessed with two children, and things went smoothly on until it was discovered that the husband had fallen desperately in love with a young woman living in the family. Finally, the husband eloped with the girl to parts unknown, leaving his lawful wife and children without a protector, husband or father.

A few days since, a store-boat arrived at Patriot, the owner of which proved to be the recreant husband, and his mistress was on board. These facts soon reached the ears of the deserted wife, who armed herself with a hatchet in one hand, and a pistol in the other, intent on slaying the husband and the wretch who had seduced him. The woman on the boat noticed her approach, thus hostilely equipped, and there being no chance but "a fight or a foot race," she took to her heels, pursued by the injured, infuriated wife. After a run of some distance, she was overtaken, and several fearful and dangerous wounds were inflicted with the hatchet. She would have been fairly "minced," but for the interference of the lookers-on. The husband fled down the river, in time to escape a coat of tar and feathers already prepared for him and his paramour. The mistress remains on the store boat, under the protection of the police and physicians. Public sympathy is strongly in favor of the much injured wife.—Cincinnati Nonpareil.

New Way to Dun.—The Fon Du Lac Republican gives the following hint to its subscribers:

"Spring is here, with her sunny smiles and odoriferous breezes. The thick ribbed ice is fast dissolving away, like the phantom forms which dance on the vision floor in our midnight dreams; and the sleigh bell's merry peals are as quickly forgotten as the cherry checked love of a California gold hunter.—The rose figured goddess will soon scatter her flowers around our Prairie home, and love will go frolicking over undulating plain and towering hill; and some of our delinquent subscribers will be dropping in to pay up!"

False Custom House Entry.—A well known merchant of this city, but better known than trusted, has had a cargo of railroad iron seized on the charge of entering it at a false price—he putting it at £5 per ton, when it is upwards of £6 in England. Should the commissioners who are examining into the affair decide adversely to him, he will be subjected to a loss that will take from his pocket some $8,000 or $10,000 more than he otherwise would have had to pay had he dealt fairly.—He is a very pious man, speaks in meeting and all that kind of thing, and greatly edified the brethren with the unctious droppings from his holy mouth. We are somewhat surprised that Satan should have left so excellent a discip in the lurch.—Boston Times, April 24th.

Hunkerism and Free Soilism.—The repr sentatives of the two factions into which t democratic party of the State of New Yo is divided, have each published an address their respective constituents, which appear in their several organs. In tone both are co ciliatory, and justify the opinion that there be eventually a re-union. The hunkers ha not appointed a day for their convention, suggest that both parties should hold the he same time and place, and that, if poss ible, the nominations for the next State tion shall be of such a complexion as to them acceptable to all. This certainly ces a conciliatory spirit. The barn maintain their free soil altitude and ha pointed Utica, and the 12th of Septem as their place and time for holding th vention. We see nothing very strikin ther address.—N. Y. Herald.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The Senatorial Convention to nominate a democratic candidate for the State Senate for the district of DeKalb, Noble and Steuben, will meet at Angola on the 23d day of June next, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

The counties composing the district will send one delegate to the convention for every one hundred polls in each county, viz: From DeKalb 11; Noble 10; Steuben 9.

WILLIAM F. ENGEL,
CHESTER STOCKER,
MILES WATERMAN, } Senatorial Com.

We are authorized to announce the name of DAVID B. HERRIMAN, Esq., of Noble county, as a candidate to represent the 10th District in the next Congress—subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Editor:

Please announce the name of SAMUEL L. RUGG, Esq., of Adams Co. as a candidate for Congress in this district—subject of course to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Rugg is well qualified for the station, and his honest, straight forward, and truly democratic course, gives him strong claims to the confidence and support of the democratic party in the district. I am not aware that Mr. Rugg seeks or would even accept a nomination, but I am satisfied that his selection would give entire satisfaction to all who are acquainted with him. A DEMOCRAT.

We are authorised to announce the name of ANDREW J. HARLAN, Esq., of Grant county as a candidate for Congress from the 10th District—subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Representative for Noble and Lagrange.—We are desired to announce the name of ABRAHAM PANCAKE of Noble Co. as a candidate to represent Noble and Lagrange in the next Legislature—subject to the decision of the democratic convention. He is one of the oldest settlers in the district, a reliable democrat, and well qualified for the station.

☞ "Rumor says there have been two cases of cholera in Fort Wayne."—Marion Western Union.

Rumor in this case, as in many others, is wide of the truth. There has been no cholera here, nor do we hear of any nearer than Cincinnati. Will the Union please inform us who originated the rumor? We think most probably it has been started by some of those travelling pests, who are far worse than the cholera itself,—the Jew Pedlers,—many of whom we understand infest Grant and the neighboring counties. We would caution all, especially the timid, against harboring or dealing with such persons during the prevalence of the cholera, as they, from their wandering habits and irregular course of life are peculiarly liable to take the infection, and might spread it through the country. We hear it reported that some of them are actually pedling the stock of a dealer who died of the cholera in his store in Cincinnati, and as no one else would touch the articles they got them at their own prices. If this be the fact, they ought to be placed in quarantine before being allowed to enter any village or settlement, and prudent people certainly owe it to their families not to allow one of them to darken their doors, and should no more think of buying their goods than they would of introducing a rattlesnake into the midst of their families.

THE CHOLERA.—This disease is evidently spreading, and however much we may hope to escape its ravages, it becomes our duty to prepare for the worst, and take such precautionary measures as may tend to keep it away, or lessen its violence if it should appear among us. The Common Council should act promptly in the matter. There are many bad nuisances in our midst; ponds of stagnant water are still to be seen—regular cholera hotbeds,—which ought to be at once filled up or drained. There is no time to be lost, as there is no telling how soon the pestilence may be here. Every thing therefore calculated to endanger the health of our city should be removed immediately.

Cholera in Cincinnati.—The board of health eport 144 cases of cholera and 32 deaths for he week ending May 10th. On the 11th 33 ew cases and 8 deaths were reported; on the 2th 50 cases and 5 deaths; on the 13th 46 ases and 7 deaths; on the 15th 25 cases and deaths.

Among the deaths on the 11th inst. we re ret to notice the name of Judge Charles H ough, formerly editor of the Cincinnati Inirer.

There have been a few cases of cholera at [illegible] Maysville, and New Albany.

GENERAL TAYLOR'S COURSE.—The axe is again at work with renewed vigor. We give in another place a list of the victims decapitated in two days. What a contrast does this exhibit to the oft repeated pledges made by the General before the election! How can it be reconciled to the opinion so prevalent at that time of his honesty, integrity, and firmness of purpose? It is now evident that the people of the United States have been miserably duped and gulled, and have elected a man to the presidency who is both unfit and unworthy to fill that high station; and yet he has had the effrontery to talk about following the example of the earlier presidents! It is thought by some that the proscription is the work of his cabinet, and that he, poor innocent soul, is totally guiltless in the matter, and knows nothing about it. We do not see that this attempt to prove him a fool rather than a knave can help him much; and we now begin to fully agree with Daniel Webster that his nomination was one not fit to be made.

In proof of the General's unfitness for the office, and his ignorance of what his cabinet is doing, he is said, in a late conversation, to have reiterated the doctrine of his Allison letter in regard to removals. He is reported to have said that "for cause, he will remove every office-holder in the United States," but that "for simply voting against him, or entertaining opinions different from his own, without being a brawler, he will remove no man who has faithfully discharged his duties, and is in every other respect unobjectionable"—that "to entertain and express political sentiments different from his own, or to vote in accordance with opinions thus entertained, was the privilege of every American citizen, with which he had neither the right nor disposition to interfere."

Now what cause can be found for most of the removals made, except the entertaining and expressing political sentiments different from his own, and voting against his election. Take, for instance, the removals made in this place. Will any one contend that there was a shadow of a cause for them, other than the exercising this "privilege of every American citizen, with which (the general says) he has neither the right nor the disposition to interfere." Such twaddle is totally unbecoming a President of this great country, and is entirely different from what we had looked for or expected in him. We had supposed he would at least have had the manliness to avow himself openly, and not by such miserable subterfuges seek to cloak his dereliction from duty and his shameless breach of the confidence reposed in him.

If we may believe common report, the different factions of his own party are becoming disgusted with him, and he can no longer count on their support of his administration. The original Taylor men are dissatisfied because he has entirely overlooked their claims in the distribution of his favors; and Clay and Webster with their respective friends, are already figuring for the succession. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, a neutral paper, who is generally well informed in regard to movements at Washington, intimates that Taylor's administration is alienating his friends without conciliating his enemies, and is likely to find itself in the same position that a similar course placed Tyler's administration in. He says:—

"General Taylor will not submit himself to the influence of either of the rival representatives of the whig party in Congress—i. e. Mr. Clay or Mr. Webster—that he does not recognise either of these leaders as his friends and will take no counsel with them. This distrust will probably be mutual, and a triangular sort of warfare may be anticipated between these principalities. Mr. Clay will come into the Senate, as he did in 1841, if not as then, inflated with hope, at least burning with revenge, for the purpose of swaying the whig party, and to fulmine, resistless, over all who have thwarted him.

"The feeble and timid, and disappointed will perhaps, act with him, while those inclined to temperate measures, will reject his dictation. Mr Webster will necessarily be at war both with his rival, at whose festival it was not thought fit to invite his presence, and with the Executive whose nomination he did not deem fit to be made.

"In this clash of powers, the whig party must lose its unity and the result must be its return to a tedious and hopeless minority, and the loss of all chance to the old leaders of the object of their arms.

"What, meanwhile, will be the position of the administration towards its opponents?—Will it conciliate them, or will it excite, as it even now does, their derision? Let the result of Mr Tyler's policy show what is to be expected."

CANADA—Excitement Subsiding.—There appears to be a lull in Canadian Affairs, and we apprehend the disturbances are about at an end, unless some action on the part of the English government should give rise to a fresh outbreak.

On the 9th inst. there was a slight riot in Montreal, caused by the arrival of a deputation from Toronto with an address of confidence. While the Governor General was dining with some of the members, the windows were smashed with a volley of stones. Some shots were fired, and a man named Miller is reported to have been wounded in the neck, and another slightly injured. An attempt was made to break open the door, but the arrival of the military restored order and tranquility, and at midnight all was quiet.

DREADFUL RIOT IN NEW YORK.—Twenty-three Persons Killed.—There has been a dreadful riot in New York, growing out of a difficulty between the friends of Mr. Forest, the great American tragedian, and Mr. Macready. As near as we can get at the origin of the difficulty, it appears to have arisen from the want of success of Mr. Forest during a visit to England two or three years ago, which he attributed (but as far as we can judge from the published statements, unjustly) to Mr. Macready and his friends. Macready is now in this country, and Forest's friends, in retaliation, determined to drive him off the stage.—They accordingly mustered in force and repaired to the Astor Opera Theatre where Macready was playing, on the 9th inst. and had a regular row, throwing chairs, eggs, and other missiles on the stage. The performance had in consequence to be suspended. Mr. Macready then declined playing out the remainder of his engagement; but at the request of a number of distinguished friends of the drama, he agreed to appear again on the following evening. On the 10th a large mob assembled at the theatre, and attempted to force an entrance, but were repulsed by the police. A company of cavalry was called out, but were pelted with stones and driven from the field. Some infantry and artillery companies arrived and were also stoned, and some of them badly wounded. Orders were at length given to fire, and four or five rounds discharged. The street was eventually cleared and the mob dispersed. Fifteen were killed on the spot, and twenty-six badly wounded, eight of whom have since died.

This is truly a shocking and disgraceful affair. It speaks poorly for the intelligence of this boasted enlightened age, that such numbers of misguided men could be found to risk their lives in an idle squabble between two envious and jealous rival play-actors, neither of whom we presume cared one cent for any of the parties whose lives have been forfeited in the affray.

☞ A Jew pedlar was arrested in Xenia Ohio, a few days ago, and fined fifty dollars and costs for refusing to show his license. He had license, but in refusing to exhibit the document when called for by the person to whom he was endeavoring to make sale, he made himself as much liable to a fine, as if he had been acting without a permit from the proper authorities.

"Boys do you hear that?" There are droves of Jew peddlers in this region, few if any of whom have licenses for the several counties through which they roam. The law ought to be strictly enforced against them, and every one of them fined who transgresses.—The county officers ought to attend to this.

☞ Hon. T. J. Henley, late Representative in Congress from the New Albany district, has gone to California.

From the Isthmus.—We have seen a letter from Jo. Sinclair dated Chagres, April 28th, announcing his safe arrival at that place. It was said to be quite healthy there. He was to start for Gorgona the following day. The report from Panama was that vessels were plenty, and there would be no difficulty in procuring passages to San Francisco at moderate rates.

S. S. Mickle Esq. of Adams has been nominated as the democratic candidate to represent Adams and Wells in the Legislature. He will of course be elected, will make a useful member, and be a credit to his constituents.

Commissioner of Patents.—Mr. THOMAS EWBANK, of New York, author of some popular works of Mechanics, Hydraulics, &c., has been appointed Commissioner of Patents, in place of Mr. Burke, removed.

Important to the Ladies.—Mrs. Dykes has returned from New York and is daily expecting her New Goods. The stock is large and well assorted, and of the very latest styles—including some novelties which arrived from Europe while she was in the city.—The whole will be offered at the very lowest prices.

OPPOSITION TELEGRAPH.—It never rains but it pours.—By the letter below it will be seen that we are likely to have an opposition Telegraphic line through this city. The proposed line is a branch of Speed's line, which is already in operation from New York City, through Buffalo and Toledo, to Milwaukie, with branches from Cleveland to Cincinnati, Cleveland to Pittsburgh, &c. The prices on this line have recently been reduced considerably (the Maumee River Times says One Hundred per cent. and larger reductions are in contemplation.) At this rate the charges will be very moderate, amounting to just—nothing at all; and when the contemplated "larger reductions" are made, we suppose the enterprising proprietor will pay every one handsomely who uses his wires. A line thus conducted could not fail ot do a large business, though it may well be questioned whether the stock would be very profitable to the shareholders.

We apprehend, however, that our Maumee River friend may have fallen into the somewhat common error of saying 100 per cent. when he means only 50, or one half. But even if this be the extent of the reduction, the new line will be deserving the support of the community. We hope when the agent arrives here he may find our citizens disposed to aid him to the full extent of their means.

MAUMEE CITY, May 9, 1849.

Editor Fort Wayne Sentinel:

DEAR SIR.—I am about coming to your place, and will be there in a very few days for the purpose of establishing a line of Telegraph from Maumee to St. Louis, via Fort Wayne and Lafayette. If your friends are not otherwise pledged, I think I can offer such inducements upon my arrival that they will think it for their interest to take stock in my line. I have the contract for the Patent from the Patentees, and the only one that ever was given, and any infringements upon their rights will be promptly prosecuted. Independent of this consideration I think the citizens of your place will do well to wait until I arrive, which will be in a few days.

Very respectfully, your ob't. serv't.

JOHN J. S. LEE.

OUR POSITION AGAIN.

Our whig friends find great difficulty in reconciling our present position on the subject of Free Territory, with the one we occupied in the support of General Cass—a difficulty which they are welcome to the pleasure of solving, as best they can. It is true that we regarded the Wilmot Proviso, on its first introduction, as ill-timed, injudicious, and unnecessary—and that opinion remains unchanged. We believed the Free Soil organization would be more likely to secure the election of Gen. Taylor, and advance the interests of the slaveholders of the South, than to secure the success of the principle for which they were contending—and the result proves that opinion to have been correct. The Free Soilers elected General Taylor. We saw what must be the inevitable tendency and result of their movement, and perhaps, on some occasions, used stronger language than might be deemed necessary—but we never insulted common sense, nor outraged common decency, by hurrahing for Free Soil in one breath, and in the next glorifying Zachary Taylor, and trying to cram him down the throats of the people, as the true free soil, free territory, anti-slavery candidate. Nor were we any more severe in our animadversions upon the Buffalo Convention, than the amiable Mr. Colfax himself.—Certain we are, that we never joined in an unprincipled mob, for the purpose of disturbing a meeting of Free Soilers, and stoning and stealing their colors, as was done by certain whig leaders at South Bend.

The election of Zachary Taylor gave a new phase to the matter. The Northern Democracy, finding themselves betrayed by the South, resolved every where to wash their hands of the institution of slavery, and to sustain such measures as may be deemed most effectual to prevent its extension. The Democratic State Convention, in January, declared, that "as the Territories of California and New Mexico are in law and in fact, free territory, it is the duty of Congress to prevent the introduction of slavery within their limits."

This is the position of the Indiana Democracy, deliberately expressed by one of the largest political assemblages ever convened at the Capital—and Zachary Taylor and his minions every where—the hypocrits who make the welkin ring with their shouts for Free Soil, and shame humanity and truth by voting to sustain and spread the institution of slavery, will find that this declaration was made in good faith, and will be sustained to the letter. We are not, in this respect, therefore, in advance of our party—but we stand with them, and will stand or fall with them. No cry of inconsistency, no parade of old extracts from our columns, no taunts, no epithets, will effect that position in the least. We have sworn in our wrath that the fraud and outrage committed on the American people, by the election of Zachary Taylor, shall be exposed—that he shall have opportunity of defining his position on the Wilmot Proviso—and let him shrink from that responsibility if he dare.

It is of no use to say that a whig can be as safely trusted on this question as a Democrat. Look at them in the last session of Congress. While Smith, Thompson and Dunn were giving the lie to their former professions, wooing in dulcet tones the spirit of Slavery, Cathcart, Petit, Rockhill, and other Democratic members, were resolutely doing battle for "Free Soil, Free Labor, and Free Men." The only safety is in electing men to Congress, who, having nothing to hope from Executive patronage, or to fear from Executive "frowns," will dare, on all occasions, to do their duty.—Such men the Democracy will nominate—such men the people will elect.—Goshen Democrat.

From the Pennsylvanian.

THE THIRTY-FIRST CONGRESS.—The ascertained result of the Virginia congressional election is a thrilling appeal to the democracy of the whole country—an impressive proof of power without patronage, and devotion without clamor. Almost at a blow that historic old Commonwealth annihilates the hopes and majorities of federalism. Instinctively she has penetrated the thin disguises of a profligate party, reading the dangerous projects which threaten the country, with intuitive sagacity. The hollow promises of Gen. Taylor—however honestly made at first—are now only alluded to with pity, while the bold bad men who are leading him to trample these promises under foot, are universally regarded with indignation. Virginia saw her duty in this crisis, and has discharged it with noble and heroic perseverance. She appreciated the danger of the country, placed unreservedly in the hands of an administration thus headed and controlled. She knew that if Gen. Taylor's cabinet cared so little for him as to induce him to dishonor his own plighted faith, they would care less when they came to apply their abandoned policy to the country at large. The worst schemes of federalism—the rejected elements of an effete banking system—the odious combination that plunders by a general improvement law—the system of tariff bounties—the gradual accumulation of debt by the increase of taxation—these are a few of the measures which the cheering example of Virginia may avert, by extending an encouragement to all the States that have yet to vote.—We thank her, therefore, ardently and sincerely, for her glorious victory over the cohorts of a party that has just returned from a field won through the divisions of an antagonist now united by a sense of common danger.

It is now ascertained that the following democrats have been elected to Congress in that State:

I. John S. Millson,
II. Richard K. Meade,
III. Thomas H. Averett.
IV. Thomas S. Bubcock,
V. Paulus Powell,
VI. James A. Seddon,
VII. Thomas H. Bayly,
VII. A. R. Holladay,
IX. Richard Parker,
XI. James McDowell,
XII. H. Edmonson,
XIII. F. McMullin,
XIV. J. M. H. Beale,
XV. Alex. Newman.

And the following anti Taylor man, elected against the administration candidate in district X—Jeremiah Morton.

If the other States that have yet to vote only follow the lead of Virginia, we may expect to see a working democratic majority in the next House of Representatives to aid the democratic majority in the United States Senate. We think the result will be about as follows in those yet to vote, exclusively of nine independents, already chosen:

	Dem.	Whigs
Members elected	54	80
Virginia has chosen	14—5 gain	1
Massachusetts to elect (May)	—	1
Rhode Island " "	1
Maryland	3—1 gain	3
North Carolina	3	6
Alabama	6—1 gain	1

This estimate, which is moderate in all particulars, as any one, by examination, will perceive, would give the democrats a decided majority over both whigs and the nine independents. But of these independents at least half will be as often with the democrats as with the whigs! leaving the control of the House emphatically with the democracy!—

Said we not well—that Virginia has led the way in a glorious work?

WASHINGTON, May 5, 1849.

Appointments of Members of Congress.—Mr. McDuffie's Remedy.—The Only Road to Office.—Washington's Fears of Legislative Influence.—Difficulties among the Cliques.—Seperate Organization, &c.

Much of the perplexity of the present administration arises from the bad usage which has gradually grown up of giving all offices to members of Congress and the persons designated by them. The usage is an innovation upon the "earlier Presidents." General Jackson was at one time opposed to the pratice, but was compelled by the pressure of the numerous and able body of his friends in Congress to yeild to it.

It was attempted by Mr. McDuffie to set up a barrier between the Executive and Congress, to hold any office during the term for which they were elected and for two years after the expiration of that term. His project, though supported with great zeal and eloquence, failed; and it was then seen and predicted that the last sruggle for the independence of the legislative body was over—and that its members were to become the subjects of Executive bargain and sale.

The only road to office is now through the Senate and the House of Representatives.—Persons procure themseives or friends a seat in Congress, not for the purpose of serving the people, but of promoting their own sordid views through their connexion with the Executive.—It was a favorite principal with General Washington to keep the legislative body as far assunder from the Executive as possible, and he even gave this as a reason for placing the President's House at the distance of a mile and a half from the Capitol. But now members of Congress not only haunt the White House during the sessions, but during the recess of Congress. Under every administration many of these remain here, pressing continually for Executive favors for themselves or family connexions or friends.

It so happens that this system works less favorably under a whig than a demoratic administration. The democrats, as a party, are more united than the whigs, and are disciplined into ready obedience and submission to the party determinations. But among the Whig captains in Congress and out of Congress, prevail fierce rivalries and violent dissensions, and General Taylor and his Cabinet are sadly perplexed by them. This accounts for their hesitation in regard to many appointments—They are afraid to act, lest they give offence to one or another clique of the Whig party, in the several States and cities.

But it appears to be certain that, in all cases wherein they have acted, General Taylor has never yet been allowed to exercise his own choice. Scarcely one of his original friends has yet received any office. Should this state of things continue, there will certainly be a seperate organization of Taylor whigs, and of Clay whigs. Perhaps, indeed, there will be a third whig party, and they will agree only in one thing, to wit: hostillity or indifference to the Taylor administration. The New York and Philadelphia appointments will be a signal for their new organization. ION.

Proscription from Office.—We notice in all our exchange papers, accounts of removals from office. The Government organs at Washington are not permitted to show the public the full extent of this exercise of executive power. We doubt whether President Taylor himself knows it. In this county Capt. Hitchcock, a soldier who volunteered and did service in the war of 1812, has been removed from the Postoffice at West Troy. We notice in a Pennsylvania exchange that an old democrat, whose son after doing gallant service, fell in the Mexican War, has been deprived of the moderate support of his office. Does General Taylor really know of these things, and does he believe he can throw the responsibility of such acts upon his subordinates.—Albany Atlas.

TOO FAST.—The Sanduskian of the 4th has a long article of glorification over Henry Clay, and abuse of free soilers, because it says Mr. Clay presided over a state emancipation meeting in Kentucky. We will not occupy the time by noticing the sermon which it preaches, because it is an old story that it has given so many times, it has lost all interest if it ever had any. But the text is badly taken. Col. Henry Clay, of Bourbon county, who presided at the meeting alluded to by the Sanduskian, is not, we believe, Henry Clay, the ex senator and would-be-president, and now discarded embodiment of whiggery, but another man by the same name. But suppose that the text of our neighbor was true. Is it any credit to the whig party after they have been compelled by their southern wing to discard Mr. Clay, because he was not sufficiently strenuous in favor of slavery extension?—It is just what those whigs who refused to support Taylor claim, that the embodiment of their party was beheaded at Philadelphia because there was danger that he might become a moderate emancipationist.—Sandusky City Mirror.

Mrs. Howard, who was indicted for murder in the first degree, for killing her husband's second wife or mistress in Cincinnati last winter, was acquitted after a trial of six days.—The verdict of the jury, after but two hours, was "not guilty," believing her to have been insane at the time the act was committed.

ARRIVAL OF THE CANADA.

The Canada arrived at Halifax on the 14th inst. with Liverpool dates to the 5th inst.

Another feeling of depression has come over the grain trade.

The weather, lately, has been very favorable to growing crops, which causes buyers to confine to their purchases to their immediate wants.

LIVERPOOL, MAY 5.

On Monday last, English wheat sold generally at a decline of 1s to 2s in quantities.—Foreign, also not in very limited demand although a similar deduction was accepted in the value of both.

Flour and Indian Corn.—A slight concession was made on the following day, at Liverpool. An animated demand for wheat and flour was experienced, and former prices were maintained. Indian corn was in brisk request and regained the depression last noticed. Indian meal sold at 15s. per bbl.

Yesterday the London market was dull and very little business doing. Flour was sold at 23s. and towards the close of business that price was not obtainable, although holders refused 22s. 6d. for considerable quantities, and home transactions have taken place at 22s. 9d. per bbl.

Prime Ohio is quoted at 23 to 25s. 6d.

Indian corn improved in demand—and sold at 31 a 32s. for white.

The imports of American grain and produce, during the past week, comprises 7510 bbls., and 29,018 quarters, of Indian corn, and 981 bbls. Indian meal.

Beef is in better request—prices steady, Pork lower—but western and eastern move off slowly.

Shoulders in good demand.

Lard in moderate request, the import being light. Holders firm. Little business doing in Cheese, the supply being short.

The Canada with 82 though passengers, arrived at Halifax on Monday at ½ past 6. P. M., making with two exceptions, the quickest passage on record.

Trade—France rapidly improving. Breach between the President and his cousin, N. Bonaparte widened to serious quarrel.

The Canadian affairs incidentally noticed in Parliament. The Ministry are very guarded in their expressions. Official notice of the intervention of Russia, in Hungary had been received at Paris. The number of men placed at the disposal of Austria is 80,000. Another account states the number at 150,000.—Hungarians have beaten the Austrians, and almost driven them out of the country. The greatest alarm prevails in Vienna, and has had effect to reduce Radetzky's demand on Piedmont, from 123,000,000 francs, to 80 000,000.

The King of Prussia definitely refuses the Crown.

There has been slight outbreaks in Berlin.

War in Schleswig continues, and no prospect of peace.

More troops were to leave France for Rome. It is reported that those under Piedmont had reached their destination, and that the Romans had risen in favor of the Pope, and that Mayeseno and the Republican Government had fled, and the Pope would be compelled to grant not only an amnesty, but desirable reforms.—It is said that the Tuscan troops had entered Leghorn, and that the Sicilians were beaten at all points, and had virtually submitted to the King of Naples.

Accounts from India report a termination of the war in Punjaub

AMERICAN CONSULS ABROAD.—The New York Tribune contains a statement of the official income of our Consuls abroad, by which it appears that no Consulate is at present worth ten thousand dollars. The largest amount received is by the Consulate at Liverpool, who in 1845 received nine thousand nine hundred and sixty-three dollars and five cents. The Consulates at Rio de Janeiro and at London are also worth nine thousand dollars. The next best are the Consulates of Havana and Glasgow, both of which yield annually upwards of six thousand dollars. St. Thomas and the Sandwich Islands each yield three thousand dollars; six other posts yield two thousand dollars per annum; eighteen are worth one thousand dollars; and the remaining ninety Consulates range from nine hundred to four dollars per annum, much the largest proportion of them being worth less than two hundred dollars. The Consul at Alexandria, in Egypt, receives a salary of two thousand dollars, and five in China receive a salary of one thousand dollars a year each. One at Beyrout receives a salary of five hundred dollars. Several of the minor Consuls have made no return of fees.

☞ The paragraph, in staring capitals, that Gen. Taylor despises duellists, is still going the rounds of the whig press. It seems that two midshipmen who were turned out of the service by Mr. Polk for duelling, made application to Taylor to be re-instated. He refused on account of the duel. Forthwith, the whig press make a great noise over it. They forget that Mr. CRAWFORD, one of his cabinet officers, killed his man in a duel! What a consistent set these whig politicians are.—Detroit Free Press.

Three Days Later from San Francisco.

Bad Weather—Scarcity of Gold—Steamer California lying Deserted &c.

By mail from San Blas, on the 29th March, via Mexico and Vera Cruz, the New York Tribune is in possession of advices from San Francisco to the 6th of March, three days later than those received on Tuesday, through the Mexican Monitor Republicano.

At San Francisco on the 6th, and for several days previous, the weather had been extremely unpleasant, and the snow was still remaining on the placer above.

In consequence there were but very few people coming in from the upper country, but a small amount of gold was received, and business was duller than it had been at any time for some months. The indications for the Spring trade were generally regarded as not so promising as we have hitherto had reason to suppose, though there was no doubt that a change in the weather would produce some improvement.

Owing to the fact that large quantities of the precious metal had been sent away as remittances to England, Valparaiso and elsewhere, gold had become comparatively scarce at San Francisco. The price of it was fifteen dollars and upward per ounce; but little could be had at fifteen dollars.

The mail steamer California lay at anchor in the bay. Her mates, engineers, and crew had all deserted immediately on her arrival, Captain Marshall having no power to prevent them from following their inclinations. Nobody was remaining on board except the Captain, and it was impossible to tell when or how he would be able to supply the places of his missing officers and men. Moreover, there was no coal to be procured at San Francisco, and it was reported that an agent had been sent to Vancouver's Island to see if a supply of coal could be obtained from there, but as to the result of his mission nothing was, as yet, known.

The deficiency of coal need not, however, have prevented the return of the steamer, if she had had a crew to navigate her, as wood enough to carry her out of the bay could at any time be obtained at San Francisco; and once at sea, the trade winds blowing down the coast would have brought her to San Blas in from ten to fifteen days, using her sails only. At either San Blas or Mazatlan there is coal belonging to the line.

From San Blas our advices are to the 29th March. The steamer Oregon arrived there on the 22d March, and sailed for San Diego direct, with the intention of not stopping at Mazatlan, as she was unable to take on board any more passengers.

A New York engineer, who was at San Blas, went up in the Oregon to San Francisco, having entered into an agreement to run the California for a few trips until some permanent arrangement could be made to fill his place, when he would leave for the gold mines, according to his original intention.

Captain Pearson, of the Oregon, aware of the desertion of the crew of the California, had resolved to use every effort to prevent such a misfortune from occurring to his own ship. It was his determination to apply to the Commander of the station for a guard of Marines sufficient to prevent his men from going off.

There was a good deal of complaint made by the captains of both steamers on account of the inferior quality of the coal they carried.—This was American coal, and was found to be far inferior to that used by the English steamers in the Pacific.

The brig Cayuga was up for a return voyage to San Francisco, and would sail about the 10th April. She would carry one hundred and forty passengers. The hold, which had been filled up with berths, would hold a hundred; the house on deck fifteen, and sixteen could be bestowed in the cabin. The price to those who took places in the hold was one hundred dollars, and every berth would be occupied.

Several vessels had arrived at San Francisco, on their way north.

Some parcels of gold had been received at San Blas from San Francisco, but not to any large extent.

The advices from the latter place, like those which have come to us from there, represent the prospects of the Spring trade in California as unfavorable.

A large number of letters brought by the Cayuga from San Francisco, had been sent forward from San Blas to the United States, but have not yet come to hand.

AUGUST ELECTION.

We are desired to announce the name of JAMES S. HAMILTON, as a candidate for reelection as County Commissioner. p.

We truly believe that the Great American Remedy, Vaughns Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture will destroy the whole principle of cure as laid down by the Medical Faculty. This Great American Remedy will cure twelve cases in every eighteen, which it is administered for, and that is a greater ratio than the experiments of the Faculy can show with their system. The explanation of the properties in Vaughn's Lithontriptic has never been given, the proportion of each is not known, but the singular result of the many trials of the article, the invariable good effect which follows is proof enough that it has no equal as a curative power, in the whole catalogue of remedies, let them come from the Faculty, or from Quacks, if any distinction can be made, which is doubted—less than 50,000 people have tried Vaughn's Remedy in the Past twelve months,—a whole army of testimonials of the worth of this panacea, the greatest production of any age.—See our columns, get pamphlet, read, buy and be cured.

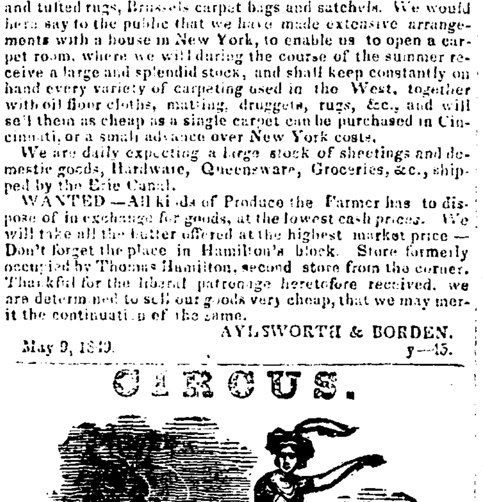
CIRCUS.



E. F. & J. MABIE, Proprietors.

Grand Olympic Arena & U. S. Circus.

CONSISTING OF 150 MEN & HORSES.

Manager,	Mr. E. F. MABIE.
Equestrian Director	Mr. W. WATERMAN.
Clowns,	MESSRS. SOL. J. LIPMAN & JOHN WELLS.
Leader of the Band	N. LEBRUN.

THE Public of Fort Wayne and vicinity are respectfully informed that the above celebrated and superb establishment will be exhibited in this city, on

MONDAY, the 21st May,

(ONE DAY ONLY.)

In making the above announcement, the Managers would state that the company is composed of a full and efficient corps of distinguished performers.

The stud of Horses is allowed to be the largest most beautiful and highly trained of any in America. The various performances will be remarkable for their novelty, splendor and effect, and the most suitable and magnificent appurtenances.

The Managers would assure the public that, by the unparalleled approbation with which the Olympic Arena and United States Circus has been received in every city and town which they have thus far visited, they are enabled to produce an entertainment far superior to any heretofore offered to the patronage of the public.

Among those composing the equestrian corps, are the following artistes:

W. WATERMAN, H. BUCKLEY, J. GOODSPEAD, A. PARKER, E. CROSBEE, J. TOLMAN, LUCIAN, JULIAN, and Master ALBERT, the celebrated Holland Family.

Those astonishing performers, known to fame and throughout the world as the Acrobat or Holland Family, whose services have been procured at an enormous expense, will appear in each performance.

The far famed JOHN KELLY, celebrated for his performances on the Violin, and as the Ethiopian Melodist.

The celebrated Wells Family—Miss MARY ANN WELLS, Miss AMELIA WELLS, Miss MARIA WELLS, Miss FLORA WELLS. The first in attraction and elegance is the young and beautiful Equestrian, Miss MARY ANN WELLS. No just idea exists in the public mind of the extraordinary terms accorded to superior merit, coupled with excellence of private character, as is the case with this charming artiste. Her wondrous Equestrian Representations are to be given on her most beautiful palfrey, and combine all the united effects, that personal charms, high talent, and grace of manner can eminently impart. This young lady, whose sweetness of look and gracefulness of manner at once impress every beholder with a prepossession towards her, stands unrivalled by any female Equestrian in the United States.

SOL. J. LIPMAN, the celebrated American Jester and American Clown.

Mr. JOHN WELLS, the favorite Buffo Clown.

A celebrated BRASS BAND is attached to the company, consisting of picked and select performers, who will lead the procession mounted on 12 splendid horses—on entering each place of exhibition, performing some of the most new and popular music of the day.

☞ Doors open at 1½ and 7 o'clock, performance to commence at 2 and 7½ P. M. Admission—Boxes 50 cents, Pit 25 cents; Children under 10 to Boxes, half price.

The above Company will exhibit at Eel River P. O. on Saturday 19th, and Huntington Tuesday 22

More New Goods.

S. & W. S. EDSALL have received their spring stock, making their assortment complete, and at least equal to any to be found in the place.—The new arrivals comprise all the new styles of

Fancy Dress Goods,

Calicoes, Ginghams, Lawns, Trimmings, &c., &c. Drillings and Summer Goods of every description.

Groceries, Hardware, Queensware, &c., &c., &c.

We are not disposed to puff ourselves into notoriety, like some of our neighbors, as we believe actions speak louder than words; but intend that all who give us a call shall be satisfied that better bargains can be had at this establishment than at any gass house in the city. Those who want genuine good articles at fair prices will find this the place to purchase. Persons living in the country, even if they do not want to trade over $5, will save money, by harnessing up their teams, coming here and getting articles they will have some satisfaction in wearing, instead of trading with those Itinerant Israelites who are now flooding the country with their trash.

A SAVING OF AT LEAST FIFTY PER CENT will be the natural consequence of taking this advice. Call and try.

May 12, 1849.

Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that from and after the 23d inst. all DOGS found running at large within the city limits, not having a collar upon their necks and the initials of the owner's or master's name upon it will be KILLED.

By order of the common council,

Attest, WM. STEWART, Mayor.

O. P. MORGAN, Recorder.

City of Fort Wayne, May 7, 1849.

No Cure No Pay.

I Would inform the world that I have a Remedy for curing or healing Ruptures, without any pain in the operation, and without even seeing the place thus ruptured. Some of the wise and learned may laugh and scorn at the proposition, but don't be too fast, this is no new fiction, my father has practiced the Remedy over forty years in the East, and I have cured three persons myself. I give this to the public, because I believe it to be my duty to do all the good I can to my fellows. WM. IBA.

And I would also request editors of papers in the Country to make a short paragraph of the above in their sheets, and by so doing they will confer a blessing on some of their patrons.

Protection
Fire & Marine Insurance Company

THE subscriber has been appointed an Agent of the Protection Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and is authorized to

Insure Dwelling Houses, Stores, Warehouses, Mills, Manufactories, Barns, Stables,

and the contents of each, together with every other similar species of property

Against loss or damage by Fire.

The subscriber is also authorized to issue Policies on the most favorable terms

Against loss or damage on the cargoes of Steam, Keel, Canal, and Flat Boats, while navigating the Western Rivers, Lakes, and Canals.

On account of the liberal patronage heretofore extended to said Company, they have been enabled greatly to reduce their rates of Insurance, so that now every man has an opportunity, for a trifling sum, to protect himself against the ravages of these destructive elements.

For terms of Insurance, apply to the subscriber, at the office, of John Hough, Jun., corner of Calhoun & Columbia Streets, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

R. D. TURNER,
Dec. 1, 1848. At the Indiana Land Agency.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING BEEN appointed an agent for said company, is authorized to make every kind and nature of Insurance appertaining to Life Risks, for a certain number of years or for life, grant annuities, and confer endowments.

The provisions of the charter of said company are peculiarly favorable to the assured—containing many important privileges, which experience has proved may be safely granted, and which are deemed superior to any heretofore offered in this country.

Married women may Insure the lives of their husbands, secure from the demands of creditors.

Creditors may insure their debtors, or debtors themselves, for the benefit of creditors.

The assured after a term of years, may at any time surrender the policy and receive its equitable value in cash.

The subject of Life Insurance is attracting much attention in the Eastern States, and commends itself to the favorable consideration of all, as by this means a comfortable support may be left to the wife and children when misfortune comes upon them, and the husband and father is taken from their embrace by the cold hand of death.

Pamphlets explanatory of the uses and benefits arising from Life Insurances, will be furnished those wishing to be insured.

The undersigned is also agent for the HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, HARTFORD, CONN.

There is no real occasion for sickness!

Dr. Ralph's Pills,

FOUNDED on the only principle on which a UNIVERSAL MEDICINE can safely and conscientiously be recommended to the world They are fast superceding every other remedy for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Acidity, Heartburn, Costiveness, all Impurities of the blood, Biliousness, Liver Diseases, Fever & Ague, the DISEASES OF WESTERN CLIMATE, &c. The reason is obvious—they act in

PERFECT ACCORDANCE WITH NATURE.

Their operation is exceedingly mild and pleasant, and if taken in accordance with the directions, which are remarkably plain and clear,

THEY CANNOT FAIL TO CURE

and to perfectly prevent diseases of every kind (see explanation of the new theory in the 'Ralphian' an invaluable paper which may be had gratis of the agents.) Their unexampled success in all the complaints of FEMALES, and those also attending pregnancy, is acknowledged by thousands.

NO FEMALE SHOULD BE WITHOUT THEM.

Testimonials of cures, of every disease the human system is liable to, often after all other means had failed, are consequently being received at the Central Office, N. Y. City.

Price 25 cents a box, with full directions, and Family packages at $1, (in which is much saving.)

"Having had repeated opportunities for the last fouiteen years of witnessing the great benefits various persons have derived from the use of Doctor RALPH's PILLS, and knowing Doctor I. RALPH to be a graduate of the University of Edinburg, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, and of the Medical College of the State of New York; also a Physician of Long, Extensive and successful Practice, I cordially recommend said Pills to all who may be afflicted with diseases for which the Pills are recommended, believing they will perform all that is promised for them if the directions or using them be strictly followed.

W. W. STEEVENS.

Fort Wayne, July, 1848.

"DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request I would state that I have used Doctor RALPH'S PILLS in my family for something like ten years, and am satisfied that they are an excellent family Medicine. GREAT AMERICAN REMEDY.
WESTERN NEW YORK
COLLEGE OF HEALTH.
207 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
DR. G. C. VAUGHN'S
Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture!

THIS celebrated remedy is constantly increasing its fame by the many cures it is making

ALL OVER THE WORLD.

It has now become the only medicine for family use, and particularly recommended for all stages of this complaint immediately relieved, no matter of how long standing. See Pamphlet for testimony.

DROPSY:

GRAVEL,

and all diseases of the urinary organs; for these distressing complaints it stands alone; no other article can relieve you and the cures testified to will convince the most skeptical; see pamphlet. Liver Complaint, Billious diseases,

FEVER AND AGUE.

To the Great West especially, and wherever these complaints prevail this medicine is offered.

NO MINERAL AGENT,

no deleterious compound is a part of this mixture, it cures these diseases with certainty and celerity, and does not leave system torpid. See Pamphlet.

PILES,

a complaint of a most painful character, is

IMMEDIATELY RELIEVED,

and a cure follows by a few days use of this article: it is far before any other preparation for this disease, or for any other disease originating from impure blood. See pamphlet.

DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM,

weak back, weakness of the Kidneys, &c., or inflammation of the same, is immediately relieved by a few days use of this medicine, and a cure is always a result of its use. It stands as

A CERTAIN REMEDY

for such complaints, and also for derangements of the female frame IRREGULARITIES SUPPRESSIONS, painful menstruations. No article has ever been offered except this which would touch this kind of derangements. It may be relied upon as a sure and effective remedy, and I did we feel permitted to do so could give as proof of cures in this distressing class of complaints. See pamphlet. All broken down, debilitated constitutions from the effect of mercury, will find the bracing power of this article to act immediately, and the poisonous mineral eradicated from the system.

ERUPTIVE DISEASES

will find the alterative properties of this article

PURIFY THE BLOOD,

and drive such diseases from the system. See pamphlet for testimony of cures in all diseases, which the limits of an advertisement will not permit to be named here. Agents give them away; they contain 32 pages of certificates of high character, and a stronger

ARRAY OF PROOF

of the virtues of a medicine, never appeared. It is one of the peculiar features of this article that it never fails to benefit in any case, and if bone and muscle are left to build upon let the emaciated and lingering invalid

HOPE ON,

and keep taking the medicine as long as there is an improvement. The proprietor would

CAUTION THE PUBLIC

against a number of articles which come out under the head of SARSAPARILLAS, SYRUPS, &C, as cures for Dropsy, Gravel, &c.: They are good for nothing and concocted to gull the unwary;

TOUCH THEM NOT.

Their inventors never thought of curing such diseases till this article had done it. A particular study of the pamphlet is earnestly solicited.

Agents and all who sell the article are gratuitously. Put up in 30 oz. bottles, at $2; 12 oz do at $1 each—the larger holding 6 oz. more than two small bottles Look out and not get imposed upon. Every bottle has "Vaughn's Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture," blown upon the glass the written signature of "G. C. Vaughn" on the directions, and "G. C. Vaughn, Buffalo," stamped on the cork. None other are genuine. Prepared by Dr. G. C. Vaughn, and sold at the Principal Office, 207 Main street, Buffalo, at wholesale and retail. No attention given to letters unless post paid—orders from regularly constituted Agents excepted: post paid letters, or verbal communications soliciting advice, promptly attended to, gratis.

Offices devoted exclusively to the sale of this article—132. Nassau street, New York city; 295 Essex street, Salem, Mass, and by the principal Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, as agents.

Cash for 20,000 Bushels OF WHEAT,
At the Empire Mills.

WE are prepared to pay CASH and the HIGHEST PRICE for 20,000 bushels of good merchantable Wheat.

Farmers and Teamsters will save themselves much trouble and expense by driving directly up to the STONE MILLS and unloading; they will always get the highest price, and avoid the annoyance of being pestered by the barkers and whipper snappers from the Stores, who now infest our streets and are such a bore to all who bring wheat to our market. We are not much given to boasting; but as some of our neighbors are talking of wanting 10,000 bushels of wheat, we would inform wheat raisers that we can take in 20,000; as our Mill, besides being the best, is the biggest, the highest, and the strongest in the country. We have a convenient WAGON-YARD and STABLE, for teams coming to the Mill, and a HOUSE for the Teamsters; we always furnish feed for the horses, and occasionally throw in Supper and Breakfast for their drivers. This is nothing new with us—we have always thought it our duty to do so, and should not now mention it if our neighbors had not set the example.

We keep constantly on hand FLOUR OF THE BEST QUALITY and all kinds of Mill Stuff; and promptly grind every thing in the shape of Custom Work—always excepting White Oak Tan Bark, or the face of the Poor."

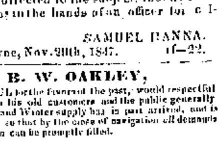
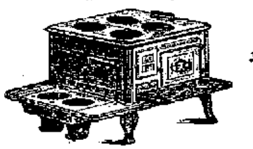
B. W. OAKLEY,

THANKFUL for the favors of the past, would respectfully inform his old customers and the public generally that his Fall and Winter supply has in part arrived, and is still coming; so that by the close of navigation all demands for the season can be promptly filled.

STOVES.



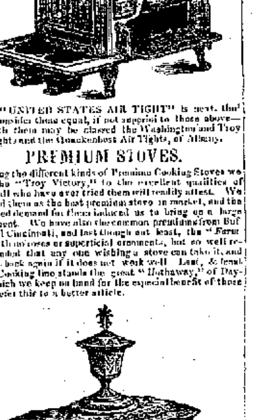
We place the "IMPERIAL AIR TIGHT" first; because we consider them decidedly foremost in the way of all stoves.



The "UNITED STATES AIR TIGHT" is next, tho' many consider them equal, if not superior to those above—and with them may be classed the Washington and Troy Air Tights and the Gouckenbost Air Tights, of Albany.

PREMIUM STOVES.

Among the different kinds of Premium Cooking Stoves we have the "Troy Victory," to the excellent qualities of which all who have ever tried them will readily attest. We selected them as the best premium stove in market, and the increased demand for them induced us to bring on a large assortment. We have also the common premiums from Buffalo and Cincinnati, and last though not least, the "Farmer," with no cross or superficial ornaments, but so well recommended that any one wishing a stove can take it, and bring it back again if it does not work well. Last, & least in the Cooking line stands the great "Hathaway," of Dayton, which we keep on hand for the especial benefit of those who prefer this to a better article.



Parlor Stoves of Cast or Sheet Iron, Dining Room Stoves, Shop and Store Room Stoves of all varieties and sizes from a meeting house to a 10 by 12.

In connection with our Stove trade we have added a small but well selected assortment of

POETRY.

THE LAY OF THE EMBLEMS.

Oh! beauty glows in the island Rose,
The fair sweet English flower—
And Memory weaves in her emblem-leaves
Proud legends of Fame and Power!
The Thistle nods forth from the hills of the north,
O'er Scotia free and fair—
And hearts warm and true and bonnets blue,
And Prowess and Faith are there!
Green Erin's dell loves the Shamrock well!
As it springs to the March sun's smile—
"Love—Valor—Wit" ever blend in it,
Bright type of our own dear Isle!
But the fair forest-land where our free hearths stand,
Tho' her annals be rough and brief—
O'er her fresh wild woods and her thousand floods
Rears for emblem "The Maple-Leaf."
Then hurrah for the Leaf—the Maple Leaf!
O, Foresters! heart and hand;
High in heaven's free air waves your emblem fair—
The pride of the Forest land!

HOPE.

The world may change from old to new,
From new to old again;
Yet hope and Heaven, forever true,
Within man's heart remain.
The dreams that bless the weary soul,
The struggles of the strong,
Are steps toward some happy goal,
The story of some Hope's song.
Hope leads the child to plant the flower,
The man to sow the seed;
Nor leave fulfilment to the hour,
But prompts again to deed.
And ere upon the old man's dust
The grass is seen to wave,
We look through fallen tears, to trust
Hope's sunshine on the grave.
Oh, no! it is no flattering lure,
No fancy weak or fond,
When hope would bid us rest secure,
In better life beyond.
Not loss, nor shame, nor grief, nor sin,
His promise can gainsay;
The voice divine hath spoke within,
And God did ne'er betray.

FRIENDSHIP.

BY AUGUSTUS ELLIS.

Soft zephyrs on the mountain sides,
Which singing come and pass,
In quest of violets for their brides,
Sweet flow'rets veiled in grass;
And blue bells on the shaded lawn,
That cluster in a row
And softly chime at morning's dawn,
Are fair and fine I know;
But all their charms cannot transcend
The tender smile of loving friend.
Not he who checks the angry look,
The cold and harsh reply,
Shall want a friend or sheltering nook
When life's dread storms are nigh;
Yet while the heart is mourning drear,
And like a matchless dove,
O how we prize the words that cheer
From Sympathy and Love!
Not thus can Wealth, or Beauty's glow
Arouse to joy the heart of woe.
The roses of the cheek will fade,
And care shall dim the eye;
The snowy breast of laughing maid
Must give the heaving sigh,
The gleeful shout of youngster gay
Old age's power can hush,
And gems that yield the darting ray,
The hand of time may crush;
But fresh in amaranthine bloom,
Sweet Friendship will outlive the tomb.
The funeral dirge, the tolling bell,
The sable beams of gloom,
And tears that weep the last farewell,
May tell our friend's cold doom:
Then let each loving gift we prize,
As holy relics dear,
And memory from our streaming eyes
Let fall the frequent tear;
While Faith and Hope go hand in hand,
To meet them in the spirit land.

New Invention for Surgeons—Collodion.—A French chemist having found that gun cotton was soluble in ether, it has been proved that this substance can be advantageously employed as an agglutinative, capable of rendering immense service in surgery. In fact, by its promptitude in drying, and its property of being impermeable to water, this liquid, a combination of gun cotton and ether, which is dignified by the scientific name of Collodion, is a powerful auxiliary in the dressing of wounds. The following are the advantages offered by the use of Collodion:

1. By its powerful contraction, during evaporation, Collodion draws the edge of a wound much closer than can be obtained either by suture or adhesive plaster. It exercises an equal degree of pressure throughout the whole extent of the wound, and the union is permanent.

2. It preserves the wound completely from all contact with the air, through its impermeability.

3. It possesses no irritating quality in regard to the skin and the lips of the wound, which is far from being the case with other adhesive preparation; and renders sutures unnecessary for uniting the edges of a wound, whatever may be its extent.

4. It remains in contact with the skin, until the moment of cicatrization.

5. It is impermeable to water, consequently admitting washing often as is deemed fit.

6. It is without color and transparent, so that the surgeon can always observe what is going on beneath, without removing it.

7. Its application does not require the employment of heat; cold merely retards a little the evaporation of the ether.

8. Its price is moderate.

Certainly a very elegant therapeutic agent. A slight layer of this transparent substance, placed over an ulcer, serves as a glassy medium, which, whilst it protects it from the hurtful action of the air, permits the eye to follow all the process of cure. If any peculiar circumstances affecting the patient require it, a little ether suffice to dissolve the collodion and remove all.

South Carolina Preparing for a "Crisis."—South Carolina is something like the news from abroad, which of late represents all parts of Europe as ripe for a revolution. South Carolina never goes so far as to perpetrate a revolution, but she is always big with a "crisis." Her period must be near, for we see that the political doctors have been holding a consultation, the result of which is that the blessings of the "peculiar institution" must be extended to the new territories. To prevent the free States interposing a veto, they have formed "Committees of Safety and Correspondence" throughout the Commonwealth. These local committees of the different districts are to meet in State Convention at the Capital on the first Monday in May, for the purpose of perfecting a thorough organization to communicate their designs. Some of the South Carolina papers state that they meditate on proposals of non-intercourse with the North.—We opine that there will be long and serious meditation upon such proposals before they are adopted.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—The citizens of this State are as busily engaged, plotting against Freeman, as they were in the hottest days of Nullification plotting against the Union.—Meetings are being held in all the districts, at which Slavery is lauded and the Wilmot Proviso denounced. All sorts of plans are proposed to stop the march of Freedom. Among the measures proposed are "non-intercourse with the North"—Slavery extension by force of arms." Committees of safety are appointed, who are instructed not to publish their proceedings.

At a public dinner in Edgefield, got up in compliment to Senator Butler, Mr. Calhoun's colleague in the Senate, the following toast was warmly responded to:

Slavery.—As it exists in the southern States, it is the best organization of human labor, and sanctioned by morality and the Constitution, we must be convinced, and subdued before we yield it to pragmatic fanaticism or insolent aggression.

What do the hardy yeomanry of Ohio, the men who live by the sweat of their brow, say to this? This insolent and infamous language comes from the petty despots of South Carolina, who are living on the unrequited toil of the laborers, and is almost identical with that uttered on the floor of the U. S. Senate, by Gen. Davis, a son-in-law of Gen. Taylor, who declared the best relation between labor and capital to be that where THE CAPITALISTS OWNED THE LABORERS.

The man or the party, who would degrade or impoverish the laborer, is the worst enemy of his race, and ought to be so regarded.—Toledo Republican.

INDIANA.—The Taylor Republicans of this State are without a candidate for Governor.—They nominated a candidate, who would not stand fire. Under this state of embarrassment arising from want of a suitable candidate, Greely advised the whigs to vote for James H. Cravens, the candidate of the Free Democracy. But the Administration press of Indiana, very generally scout at the idea. The objection urged against Mr. Cravens is, that he is a Free Soil whig, instead of a Taylor whig. Before election the same papers declared themselves to be Free Soil Whigs to the back bone.

☞ What has produced so sudden a change? Have the "Frowns" of Gen. Tay scared free soilism out of the Indiana whigs?—Toledo Republican.

High Tariff an Obsolete Idea.—The Hartford Courant, an orthodox whig paper, publishes the letter of a correspondent, a "distinguished gentleman in Massachusetts," advocating the claims of Abbot Lawrence, as Secretary of the Treasury. The writer makes the following admission, which is important to manufacturers and others advocating a protective tariff, as showing what the prevailing sentiment is in New England:

"The fact unquestionably is, that Mr. Lawrence, however he may have favored former tariffs, and the protective system of former days, is not a high tariff man. THE DAY OF HIGH TARIFFS HAS GONE BY. They have done their work; they have given us the requisite skill, and concentrated the capital in such a manner upon manufacturers, that the country can now breast competition with a range of duties not higher than is needed for revenue purposes. There is no high tariff party in the country. The whig party—the great body of New England manufacturers—do not desire a scale of duties higher than the average of the present tariff."

DEMOCRATIC REJOICING.—A salute was fired at Boston on Monday, by the democrats, proclaiming their satisfaction at the removal of Marcus Morton, democrat, from the collectorship of that port. The Post, the leading democratic paper, says:

"If Mr. Polk and Mr. Walker had done their duty faithfully, we should not have been dependent upon General Taylor and Mr. Meredith for a favor we now most gratefully acknowledge."

Taylorism.—The New York Tribune's correspondent says, "all offices which can by any possibility have a controlling influence over elections will be filled by whigs." What else is this but an impudent announcement of the determination of the administration to appoint men to office for the express purpose of controlling the elections? Those who refuse to obey orders and aid whiggery, will be "frowned" upon, and dismissed for that "cause," by the no party President.—Ohio Statesman.

Another bit of History.—It will doubtless be recollected by our readers, says the Pennsylvanian, that the celebrated letter of General Taylor to General Gaines, was furnished to the New York Express by Dr. Bacon, now the responsible editor of the New York Day Book. From certain remarks contained in that paper of Tuesday, we infer that Dr. Bacon corrected and revised it, so as, as he intimates, to make it fit for publication. We extract two paragraphs:

"The original letter of General Taylor to General Gaines, was much worse written than the worst thing ever printed with his signature. It afforded conclusive evidence that though he wrote his celebrated 'despatches,' somebody must have corrected them before they were despatched.

"If any person deny this, the public can be furnished with examples of the original uncorrected English of the letter, compared with the version or paraphrase given by the editor of the Day Book, which General Taylor has so promptly claimed as his own production."

☞ It seems that Mr. Nathaniel Albertson is Judge Embree's opponent in the first district for Congress. From all we can learn, the two candidates are honest, upright men.

This nomination and the hints we have lately had, have caused us, in some degree, to think that some of the political wire-workers have thought it necessary to make, in some cases, church membership a test of fitness for office. The nomination of Wright and Embree for Governor, and since Mr. Embree's declination to run for Governor, there is brot' out against him for Congress not Robert Dale Owen, the learned democrat of the State, but Mr. Albertson, a member of the same church as Mr. Embree. We thought we had noticed a squinting that way on account of "availability" and we mentioned the subject to a minister. He is of the same opinion, and with us, despises the practice. We must say that, while we like to see men moral and religious, we do not like to see it "stick out" quite so strong, that they must be members of any particular church to ensure an election.—Vincennes Gazette, Whig.

Mr. Lindley, a celebrated London Professor, says "there is not a single gardener who is master of his profession who does not know how injurious a high nocturnal temperature is to plants. The coolness of night is to plants what sleep is to animals. This law may to some extent be violated for a time, but the plants cannot, on pain of loss of life, be deprived of their proper period of repose."

From the Albany Cultivator.

How to raise Thirty bushels of Wheat per Acre where you could not raise Twenty before.

EDS. CULTIVATOR: Where you have a good clover sod, let the clover grow until the first week in June; then take a good team and plough, and turn the clover all under, then roll the sod down flat, and let it lay eight or ten days; then take a light harrow or cultivator, and pulverize the ground fine, and about the 25th of June sow two and a half bushels of corn to the acre, and after harrowing it well, roll it down smooth. About the last week in August, take your roller and press the corn down as flat as possible, going round with the roller the same way you intend to plough the land; then plough the land as deep as possible, and turn all the corn under; follow with the roller, pressing all down flat. Thus you have two crops well mixed with the soil for manure.

Then take a light harrow or cultivator, and pulverize the ground fine, and sow your wheat about the middle of September, and if you do not have one-third more wheat than you do when you summer follow, tell me I am mistaken in a cheap method of manuring land.—The corn will grow so thick that it will keep every other plant down, and leave the ground clean, and if there are a few small leaves of the corn scratched up with the harrow, it will afford a good top dressing for the wheat.

IRA HOPKINS.
Auburn, Sept. 22, '48.

Peaches.—A gentleman handed us yesterday the following, which may be of service to some of our readers: A friend of mine has just informed me of the success he met with by the application of charcoal to peach trees. A few years ago he had some fine peach trees in his garden which invariably had wormy fruit, and the trees were full of gum. When the fruit was about the size of marbles he had the earth removed from each about two feet round and three inches deep, and filled with charcoal. The result was that the fruit grew to a fine size, free from worms; and every year since the fruit has been good, and the trees became healthy and free from gum, while two trees left without the charcoal continue to bear wormy fruit and are unhealthy.

Washing Clothes.—We publish to-day for the benefit of the ladies, the greatest recipe for washing clothes ever yet published. By this process one hand can do as much as three hands on the old method, and do it much better. Be sure to keep this recipe. If you file our paper, mark round the recipe with a pen and ink; if not, cut this recipe out, and paste it up in your wash-house:—

Recipe. Take good home-made soft soap, 4 lbs.; borax, refined, 4 ounces; common salt, 3 ounces; water, 7 pints. Boil slowly to cake soap; The bottom or sediment will do for the common washing about a kitchen.

Process.—1. Wet the clothes thoroughly.—2. Rub the grease and dirty spots with some of the soap. 3. Boil the clothes in strong soap suds of the above soap, for thirty minutes—4. Rinse the clothes three times well in clean water.—Washington (Pa.) Comp.

Chilblains, or Frosted Feet.—Mix in a glass vial, a quarter of an ounce of pure muriatic acid with two ounces of water. Wet a piece of sponge or soft cloth with the liquid and gently bathe the parts that have been frozen.—Let it dry on, and wrap the feet in bandages, or draw on a pair of old stockings to keep the bed linen from contact with the acid, which will drop into holes wherever it is touched by it. This speedily cools the inflammation, allays the intensely painful itching, and, when the frost is not very deep, it cures by a few applications.

When the chilblains are of long standing, and the skin has cracked, or when sores are formed, the first two or three bathings are apt to cause a smarting pain that is somewhat discouraging to persons unacquainted with the virtues of this simple remedy; but if they will persevere they will be rewarded by a complete cure.

The Water Cure for Chills and Fever.

The senior editor of the Lafayette Journal, during a recent visit to Cincinnati, had a severe attack of the chills and fever. He was staying at the time at the Henrie House, and Mr. Cook, the gentlemanly assistant of the establishment, took his case promptly in hand, and by the vigorous use of the shower bath broke the chill and restored the patient to health. The "Senior" thus describes the course of treatment:

"And now, as the season of chills and fever has certainly arrived, let me describe my young friend Cook's mode of treatment, that others, profiting by my experience, may learn their most thorough and effectual cure. Notwithstanding my utter repugnance to the remedy, he took the matter into his own hands, and literally dragged me from my bed, forced me under a shower bath, while the chill was full on me, my lips, nose, and fingers purple: my teeth chattering, and my whole convulsed body giving terrible evidence of the severe nature of the malady. There he held me, changing my positions under the drip for more than a minute—AND THE CHILL WAS GONE! It was the second, and of congestive type, that I had had in the space of five hours.

"Next, he put me under warm blankets.—I slept for over an hour. Visiting me at this junction, and finding the fever to be consuming me, he again pulled me out of bed, and forced me a second time under the bath. In less than 5 minutes, all traces of the fever had disappeared; and the bath, from having at first been horrible beyond description, became delightful; and I could have stood under it for hours, wooing the droppings of its congenial waters. The consequence was, I came out a restored man!

"Thus much for the benefit of my friends and neighbors, and as a tribute of affection to my generous hearted young friend. The 'HENRIE HOUSE' is among the best in the city, and I can recommend it without a single qualm of conscience."

☞ Intolerance in the matters of religious belief, appears still to linger in the bosom of the Old Bay State—and to exhibit itself, not unfrequently in acts akin to those that stain the earlier pages of its history. The Massachusetts House of Representatives have rejected a bill to charter "the College of the Holy Cross" at Worcester—not because there was any thing in the proposed charter which every collegiate institution in the State has not had granted to it—not because the bill gave to this college any thing beyond a corporate name and being—or beyond the mere facilities which a charter gives in perpetuity, for transacting its purely business affairs—but simply because the corporators were Roman Catholics, and had the good or the ill fortune to differ from a majority of the Legislature in matters of faith! But what else could be expected of a State where orthodoxy assumes infallibility—and where the burning of convents by mobs, if it does not go unpunished at least passes unredressed at the hands of the Legislature.—Albany Argus.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.—A Substitute for Lamps.—The idea of producing lights, says the Puritan, that should displace the use of lamps by means of the galvanic battery, is not new, as attempts to propel machinery by steam were made long before steam boats were made. But now electrical lights give promise soon of being a practical reality. We have previously alluded to the experiments in progress in London, by Mr. Staite. He has brought his apparatus to produce such results as to have created no small panic in the gas companies in London. His apparatus consists of an ordinary Voltaic battery, having a hundred cells. To each wire or pole is attached a piece of carbon, artificially prepared. The light is produced by first bringing the points of these two pieces into contact, and then setting them a small distance apart—the distance varying with the intensity of the electric current. His model battery produces a light equal to eight hundred wax candles; and what is especially wonderful about it is that all this is done at less than no expense. The apparatus is actually making money while it produces the light; for the materials used in the battery to excite the electrical action, undergo a chemical change, which enhances their value as an article of merchandise. This invention unquestionably promises the most important results.

How to dislodge a Fish-bone from the Throat.—It sometimes happens that a fish-bone accidentally swallowed will remain in the œsophagus and occasion serious inconvenience; in fact, instances have been known where so much irritation had arisen that death followed. In such cases, it is advisable, as soon as possible, to take four grains of tartar emetic dissolved in one half pint of warm water and immediately afterwards the white of six eggs.—The coagulated mass will not remain in the stomach more than two or three minutes, and the probability is that the bone will be ejected with the contents of the stomach. If tartar emetic is not to be found conveniently, a teaspoonful of mustard dissolved in milk-warm water and swallowed will answer the same purpose—Scientific American.

Another Cure for the Cholera.—A correspondent of the London Times sends the following extract from a letter stating the treatment of cholera, successfully practiced in the government of Kioffe, Russia:

"I have upwards of three hundred people at work, and the cholera all around us and amongst us; sixty of my people were taken ill, but the great matter is to take the disease at the beginning, so I called them together and explained the symptoms, which are loss of appetite, a heaviness and a disagreeable sensation at the pit of the stomach. I immediately administered to those who were seized, one glass and a half of spirits of wine in a glass of water, with four or five teaspoonsful of powdered charcoal, and three drops of oil of mint, and the patient took violent exercise until a strong perspiration was induced, and all my patients recovered; those who were weakly I administered the charcoal to in a fresh egg beat up with a little water, milk warm.

"For myself, as an antidote, I take every morning a fresh egg, beat up with a tea-spoonful of charcoal; I make the charcoal from white beech, but any wood that is free from rosin will do."

Music in the Family.—Encourage a taste for music in your children. It is a grand aid to refinement and happiness. If you can afford to give your children a choice of instruments—piano, harp, and guitar for the girls, and the violin, violoncello, and flute for the boys. But do not neglect the organ which nature has bestowed upon every one. If parents will sing, their children follow their example, and, in our opinion, a good musical family may bid defiance to consumption, because singing strengthens the lungs.—Phila. City Item.

A Good Salve.—Take an egg and boil it hard, then take out the yolk and fry it in half a tablespoonful of clean lard for about five minutes, and you have an excellent salve. It is especially good for sore nipples, and requires just to be rubbed on as occasion may require.

One of our subscribers sends us the above from Hamilton county, Ohio, and we must say that it is a good salve. We have seen it tried and judge of its merits from practical experience.

SPEECH MAKING.—We regard failure in a speech as merely indicating weakness in the organ of language, one of the lower faculties, common to all brute nature, and not one of the highest and exclusively human, as some of the ignorant suppose. Men of the highest intellectual order are sometimes deficient in language, while some of the most fluent are sometimes deficient in intellectual power.—Some of the ablest writers are feeble speakers, and some of the most fluent speakers cannot write. And some gigantic minds can neither write nor speak fluently, while some feeble thinkers can write or declaim "eloquently." Washington could not speak, and once "broke down" in attempting to speak in the Continental Congress. Jefferson was no orator, and never made speeches, though a distinguished leader in legislative bodies. Yet with this oratorical deficiency, Washington & Jefferson were men of some intellectual power, and really did something in the Revolution.—Some have even regarded them as superior to John Randolph, or Fisher Ames, or Tristram Burgess, or Henry A. Wise, or George McDuffie, men celebrated for—talk, or as it is sometimes pronounced—gab, or gowson.—Pa. Ledger.

Slavery Eighty Years ago.—Eighty years ago, slavery existed in Massachusetts, and was there practised, by some, as cruelly as now on the worst sugar plantations of Louisiana. Mrs. Child, in her history of Woman, says: "A wealthy lady residing in Gloucester, Massachusetts, was in the habit of giving away the infants of her female slaves a few days after they were born, as people are accustomed to dispose of a litter of kittens.—One of her neighbors begged an infant, which in these days of comparative simplicity, she nourished with her own milk, and reared among her own children. This woman had an earnest desire for a brocade gown, and her husband not feeling able to purchase one, she sent her little nursling to Virginia, and sold her, when she was about seven years old."—Yet the people of Massachusetts, like the English, have less charity now for slave holders than perhaps any other of the citizens of the United States. Such is human nature.

GREAT SPEED.—A first class express engine has been placed on the York and Newcastle railway, England, which has taken the express train from York to Darlington, in forty minutes, a distance of forty-five miles; and it is further computed (from results already known) that when the new rails are laid down on this portion of the railway, his engine will accomplish the distance with perfect ease in the short space of half an hour, being at the surprising rate of ninety miles an hour.

Examination of Attorneys.—A correspondent sends us the following racy examination of a candidate for admission to the Bar. It is taken from the Western Law Journal, and will be called a good hit:

Examiner—Do you smoke, sir. Candidate—I do, sir. Ex.—Have you a spare cigar? Can.—Yes, sir; (extending a short six.) Ex.—Now, sir, what is the first duty of a lawyer? Can.—To collect fees. Ex.—Right! what is the second? Can.—To increase the number of his clients. Ex.—When does your position toward your client change? Can.—When making up a bill of costs. Ex.—Explain. Can.—We then occupy the antagonist position—I assume the character of plaintiff and he becomes defendant. Ex.—A suit decided, how do you stand with the lawyer conducting the other bill? Can.—Cheek by jowl. Ex.—Enough, sir, you promise to be an ornament to your profession, and I wish you success.—Now, are you aware of the duty you owe me? Can.—Perfectly. Ex.—Describe the duty. Can.—It is to invite you to drink. Ex.—But suppose I decline. Can.—(scratching his head.)—There is no instance of the kind on record in the books, I cannot answer that question. Ex.—You are right, and the confidence with which you make the assertion shows that you have read the law attentively, let's take the drinks and I will sign your certificate.

SCRAPS AND ODDITIES.

"Whose pigs are these my lad?" "Whoy they belong to that there big sow." "No! I mean who is their master?" "Whoy," again answered the lad, "that little 'un there; he's a rare 'un to fight."

"How do you like General Taylor?" was asked a whig a few days since. "First rate," replied the old coon: "he turns out a great deal better than we expected."

'You Zeke!' 'What, me?' 'Have you sanded your teeth and tallowed your hair?'—'Yes, ma.' 'Tarred your boots and corked your eyebrows?' 'Yes, ma.' 'Then teazle your hat and go to meeting,—we must be as fashionable as our neighbors.'

"Ma," said an inquisitive little girl, "will rich and poor people live together when they go to heaven?" "Yes, my dear, they will all be alike there." Then ma, why don't rich and poor Christians associate together here?" The mother did not answer.

☞ It is sad when the existence of a great party depends upon the popular belief of a lie.—Journal.

And yet, this is the only existence the whig party ever had.—Ohio Statesman.

Influence of a Smile.—It is related in the life of a celebrated mathematician, William Hutton, that a respectable looking country-woman called upon him one day, anxious to speak with him. She told him with an air of secrecy, that her husband treated her unkindly, and sought other company, frequently passing his evenings from home, which made her feel extremely unhappy, and knowing Mr. Hutton to be a wise man, she thought he might be able to tell her how she could manage to cure her husband.

The cause was a common one, and he thought he could prescribe for it without losing his reputation as a conjuror. "The remedy is a simple one," said he, "and I have never known it to fail. Always meet your husband with a smile."

The woman expressed her thanks, dropped a curtesy, and went away. A few months afterwards she waited on Mr. Hutton, with a couple of fowls, which she begged him to accept. She told him, while a tear of joy and gratitude glistened in her eye, that she had followed his advice, and her husband was cured. He no longer sought the company of others, but treated her with constant love and kindness.

Jealousy—Revenge.—Some years since, says the Louisville Democrat of yesterday, a man residing in Patriot, Ind., married a young lady residing in the same place. After they had been married some five years the parties were blessed with two children, and things went smoothly on until it was discovered that the husband had fallen desperately in love with a young woman living in the family. Finally, the husband eloped with the girl to parts unknown, leaving his lawful wife and children without a protector, husband or father.

A few days since, a store-boat arrived at Patriot, the owner of which proved to be the recreant husband, and his mistress was on board. These facts soon reached the ears of the deserted wife, who armed herself with a hatchet in one hand, and a pistol in the other, intent on slaying the husband and the wretch who had seduced him. The woman on the boat noticed her approach, thus hostilely equipped, and there being no chance but "to fight or a foot race," she took to her heels, pursued by the injured, infuriated wife. After a run of some distance, she was overtaken, and several fearful and dangerous wounds were inflicted with the hatchet. She would have been fairly "minced," but for the interference of the lookers-on. The husband fled down the river, in time to escape a coat of tar and feathers already prepared for him and his paramour. The mistress remains on the store-boat, under the protection of the police and physicians. Public sympathy is strongly in favor of the much injured wife.—Cincinnati Nonpareil.

New Way to Dun.—The Fon Du Lac Republican gives the following hint to its subscribers:

"Spring is here, with her sunny smiles and odoriferous breezes. The thick ribbed ice is fast dissolving away, like the phantom forms which dance on the vision fleet in our midnight dreams; and the sleigh bell's merry peals are as quickly forgotten as the cherry, checked love of a California gold hunter—The rose figured goddess will soon scatter her flowers around our Prairie home, and love will go hotheking over undulating plain and towering hill; and some of our delinquent subscribers will be dropping in to pay up!"

False Custom House Entry.—A well known merchant of this city, but better known than trusted, has had a cargo of railroad iron seized on the charge of entering it at a false price—he putting it at £5 per ton, when it is upwards of £6 in England. Should the commissioners who are examining into the affair decide adversely to him, he will be subjected to a loss that will take from his pocket some $5,000 or $10,000 more than he otherwise would have had to pay had he dealt fairly.—He is a very pious man, speaks in meeting and all that kind of thing, and greatly edified the brethren with the unctious droppings from his holy mouth. We are somewhat surprised that Satan should have left so excellent a disciple in the lurch.—Boston Times, April 24th.

Hunkerism and Free Soilism.—The representatives of the two factions into which the democratic party of the State of New York is divided, have each published an address to their respective constituents, which appeared in their several organs. In tone both are conciliatory, and justify the opinion that there was an eventually a reunion. The hunkers have not appointed a day for their convention, but agree that both parties should hold them at the same time and place, and that, if practicable, the nominations for the next State election shall be of such a complexion as to make them acceptable to all. This certainly evinces a conciliatory spirit. The barnburners maintain their free soil attitude and have appointed Utica, and the 13th of September as their place and time for holding their convention. We see nothing very striking in their address.—N. Y. Herald.

WILLIAM F. ENGEL,
CHESTER STOCKER,
MILES WATERMAN, } Senatorial Com.

We are authorized to announce the name of DAVID B. HERRIMAN, Esq., of Noble county, as a candidate to represent the 10th District in the next Congress—subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Editor:

Please announce the name of SAMUEL L. RUGG, Esq., of Adams Co. as a candidate for Congress in this district—subject of course to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Rugg is well qualified for the station, and his honest, straight forward, and truly democratic course, gives him strong claims to the confidence and support of the democratic party in the district. I am not aware that Mr. Rugg seeks or would even accept a nomination, but I am satisfied that his selection would give entire satisfaction to all who are acquainted with him.

A DEMOCRAT.

We are authorised to announce the name of Andrew J. Harlan, Esq., of Grant county as a candidate for Congress from the 10th District—subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Representative for Noble and Lagrange.—We are desired to announce the name of ABRAHAM PANCAKE of Noble Co. as a candidate to represent Noble and Lagrange in the next Legislature—subject to the decision of the democratic convention. He is one of the oldest settlers in the district, a reliable democrat, and well qualified for the station.

☞ "Rumor says there have been two cases of cholera in Fort Wayne."—Marion Western Union.

Rumor in this case, as in many others, is wide of the truth. There has been no cholera here, nor do we hear of any nearer than Cincinnati. Will the Union please inform us who originated the rumor? We think most probably it has been started by some of those travelling pests, who are far worse than the cholera itself,—the Jew Pedlers,—many of whom we understand infest Grant and the neighboring counties. We would caution all, especially the timid, against harboring or dealing with such persons during the prevalence of the cholera, as they, from their wandering habits and irregular course of life are peculiarly liable to take the infection, and might spread it through the country. We hear it reported that some of them are actually pedling the stock of a dealer who died of the cholera in his store in Cincinnati, and as no one else would touch the articles they got them at their own prices. If this be the fact, they ought to be placed in quarantine before being allowed to enter any village or settlement, and prudent people certainly owe it to their families not to allow one of them to darken their doors, and should no more think of buying their goods than they would of introducing a rattlesnake into the midst of their families.

THE CHOLERA.—This disease is evidently spreading, and however much we may hope to escape its ravages, it becomes our duty to prepare for the worst, and take such precautionary measures as may tend to keep it away, or lessen its violence if it should appear among us. The Common Council should act promptly in the matter. There are many bad nuisances in our midst; ponds of stagnant water are still to be seen—regular cholera hot-beds,—which ought to be at once filled up or drained. There is no time to be lost, as there is no telling how soon the pestilence may be here. Every thing therefore calculated to endanger the health of our city should be removed immediately.

Cholera in Cincinnati.—The board of health report 144 cases of cholera and 32 deaths for the week ending May 10th. On the 11th 33 new cases and 8 deaths were reported; on the 12th 59 cases and 5 deaths; on the 13th 40 cases and 7 deaths; on the 15th 25 cases and 4 deaths.

Among the deaths on the 11th inst. we regret to notice the name of Judge Charles H. Brough, formerly editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

There have been a few cases of cholera at [illegible] Maysville, and New Albany.

[illegible] again at work with renewed vigor. We give in another place a list of the victims decapitated in two days. What a contrast does this exhibit to the oft repeated pledges made by the General before the election! How can it be reconciled to the opinion so prevalent at that time of his honesty, integrity, and firmness of purpose! It is now evident that the people of the United States have been miserably duped and gulled, and have elected a man to the presidency who is both unfit and unworthy to fill that high station; and yet he has had the effrontery to talk about following the example of the earlier presidents! It is thought by some that the proscription is the work of his cabinet, and that he, poor innocent soul, is totally guiltless in the matter, and knows nothing about it. We do not see that this attempt to prove him a fool rather than a knave can help him much; and we now begin to fully agree with Daniel Webster that his nomination was one not fit to be made.

In proof of the General's unfitness for the office, and his ignorance of what his cabinet is doing, he is said, in a late conversation, to have reiterated the doctrine of his Allison letter in regard to removals. He is reported to have said that "for cause, he will remove every office-holder in the United States," but that "for simply voting against him, or entertaining opinions different from his own, without being a brawler, he will remove no man who has faithfully discharged his duties, and is in every other respect unobjectionable"—that "to entertain and express political sentiments different from his own, or to vote in accordance with opinions thus entertained, was the privilege of every American citizen, with which he had neither the right nor disposition to interfere."

Now what cause can be found for most of the removals made, except the entertaining and expressing political sentiments different from his own, and voting against his election. Take, for instance, the removals made in this place. Will any one contend that there was a shadow of a cause for them, other than the exercising this "privilege of every American citizen, with which (the general says) he has neither the right nor the disposition to interfere." Such twaddle is totally unbecoming a President of this great country, and is entirely different from what we had looked for or expected in him. We had supposed he would at least have had the manliness to avow himself openly, and not by such miserable subterfuges seek to cloak his dereliction from duty and his shameless breach of the confidence reposed in him.

If we may believe common report, the different factions of his own party are becoming disgusted with him, and he can no longer count on their support of his administration. The original Taylor men are dissatisfied because he has entirely overlooked their claims in the distribution of his favors; and Clay and Webster with their respective friends, are already figuring for the succession. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, a neutral paper, who is generally well informed in regard to movements at Washington, intimates that Taylor's administration is alienating his friends without conciliating his enemies, and is likely to find itself in the same position that a similar course placed Tyler's administration in. He says:—

"General Taylor will not submit himself to the influence of either of the rival representatives of the whig party in Congress—i. e. Mr. Clay or Mr. Webster—that he does not recognise either of these leaders as his friends and will take no counsel with them. This distrust will probably be mutual, and a triangular sort of warfare may be anticipated between these principalities. Mr. Clay will come into the Senate, as he did in 1841, if not as then, inflated with hope, at least burning with revenge, for the purpose of swaying the whig party, and to fulmine, resistless, over all who have thwarted him.

"The feeble and timid, and disappointed will perhaps, act with him, while those inclined to temperate measures, will reject his dictation. Mr. Webster will necessarily be at war both with his rival, at whose festival it was not thought fit to invite his presence, and with the Executive whose nomination he did not deem fit to be made.

"In this clash of powers, the whig party must lose its unity and the result must be its return to a tedious and hopeless minority, and the loss of all chance to the old leaders of the object of their aims.

"What, meanwhile, will be the position of the administration towards its opponents?—Will it conciliate them, or will it excite, as it even now does, their derision? Let the result of Mr. Tyler's policy show what is to be expected."

CANADA—Excitement Subsiding.—There appears to be a lull in Canadian Affairs, and we apprehend the disturbances are about at an end, unless some action on the part of the English government should give rise to a fresh outbreak.

On the 9th inst. there was a slight riot in Montreal, caused by the arrival of a deputation from Toronto with an address of confidence. While the Governor General was dining with some of the members, the windows were smashed with a volley of stones. Some shots were fired, and a man named Miller is reported to have been wounded in the neck, and another slightly injured. An attempt was made to break open the door, but the arrival of the military restored order and tranquility, and at midnight all was quiet.

DREADFUL RIOT IN NEW YORK—Twenty-three Persons Killed.—There has been a dreadful riot in New York, growing out of a difficulty between the friends of Mr. Forest, the great American tragedian, and Mr. Macready. As near as we can get at the origin of the difficulty, it appears to have arisen from the want of success of Mr. Forest during a visit to England two or three years ago, which he attributed (but as far as we can judge from the published statements, unjustly) to Mr. Macready and his friends. Macready is now in this country, and Forest's friends, in retaliation, determined to drive him off the stage.—They accordingly mustered in force and repaired to the Astor Opera Theatre where Macready was playing, on the 9th inst. and had a regular row, throwing chairs, eggs, and other missiles on the stage. The performance had in consequence to be suspended. Mr. Macready then declined playing out the remainder of his engagement; but at the request of a number of distinguished friends of the drama, he agreed to appear again on the [illegible] a large mob [illegible] assembled at the theatre, and attempted to force an entrance, but were repulsed by the police. A company of cavalry was called out, but were pelted with stones and driven from the field. Some infantry and artillery companies arrived and were also stoned, and some of them badly wounded. Orders were at length given to fire, and four or five rounds discharged. The street was eventually cleared and the mob dispersed. Fifteen were killed on the spot, and twenty-six badly wounded, eight of whom have since died.

This is truly a shocking and disgraceful affair. It speaks poorly for the intelligence of this boasted enlightened age, that such numbers of misguided men could be found to risk their lives in an idle squabble between two envious and jealous rival play-actors, neither of whom we presume cared one cent for any of the parties whose lives have been forfeited in the affray.

☞ A Jew pedlar was arrested in Xenia, Ohio, a few days ago, and fined fifty dollars and costs for refusing to show his license. He had license, but in refusing to exhibit the document when called for by the person to whom he was endeavoring to make sale, he made himself as much liable to a fine, as if he had been acting without a permit from the proper authorities.

"Boys do you hear that?" There are droves of Jew peddlers in this region, few if any of whom have licenses for the several counties through which they roam. The law ought to be strictly enforced against them, and every one of them fined who transgresses.—The county officers ought to attend to this.

☞ Hon. T. J. Henley, late Representative in Congress from the New Albany district, has gone to California.

From the Isthmus.—We have seen a letter from Jo. Sheler dated Chagres, April 28th, announcing his safe arrival at that place. It was said to be quite healthy there. He was to start for Gorgona the following day. The report from Panama was that vessels were plenty and there would be no difficulty in procuring passage to San Francisco at moderate rates.

S. S. Mickle Esq. of Adams has been nominated as the democratic candidate to represent Adams and Wells in the Legislature. He will of course be elected, will make a useful member, and be a credit to his constituents.

Commissioner of Patents.—Mr. THOMAS EWBANK, of New York, author of some popular works of Mechanics, Hydraulics, &c., has been appointed Commissioner of Patents, in place of Mr. Burke, removed.

Important to the Ladies.—Mrs. Dykes has returned from New York and is daily expecting her New Goods. The stock is large and well assorted, and of the very latest styles—including some novelties which arrived from Europe while she was in the city.—The whole will be offered at the very lowest prices.

OPPOSITION TELEGRAPH.—It never rains but it pours.—By the letter below it will be seen that we are likely to have an opposition Telegraphic line through this city. The proposed line is a branch of Speed's line, which is already in operation from New York City, through Buffalo and Toledo, to Milwaukie, with branches from Cleveland to Cincinnati, Cleveland to Pittsburgh, &c. The prices on this line have recently been reduced considerably (the Maumee River Times says One Hundred per cent. and larger reductions are in contemplation.) At this rate the charges will be very moderate, amounting to just—nothing at all; and when the contemplated "larger reductions" are made, we suppose the enterprising proprietor will pay every one handsomely who uses his wires. A line thus conducted could not fail to do a large business, though it may well be questioned whether the stock would be very profitable to the share-holders.

We apprehend, however, that our Maumee River friend may have fallen into the somewhat common error of saying 100 per cent. when he means only 50, or one half. But even if this be the extent of the reduction, the new line will be deserving the support of the community. We hope when the agent arrives here he may find our citizens disposed to aid him to the full extent of their means.

MAUMEE CITY, May 9, 1849.

Editor Fort Wayne Sentinel:

DEAR SIR.—I am about coming to your place, and will be there in a very few days for the purpose of establishing a line of Telegraph from Maumee to St. Louis, via Fort Wayne and Lafayette. If your friends are not otherwise pledged, I think I can offer such inducements upon my arrival that they will think it for their interest to take stock in my line. I have the contract for the Patent from the Patentees, and the only one that ever was given, and any infringements upon their rights will be promptly prosecuted. Independent of this consideration I think the citizens of your place will do well to wait until I arrive, which will be in a few days.

Very respectfully, your ob't. serv't.,

JOHN J. S. LEE.

OUR POSITION AGAIN.

Our whig friends find great difficulty in reconciling our present position on the subject of Free Territory, with the one we occupied in the support of General Cass—a difficulty which they are welcome to the pleasure of solving, as best they can. It is true that we regarded the Wilmot Proviso, on its first introduction, as ill-timed, injudicious, and unnecessary—and that opinion remains unchanged. We believed the Free Soil organization would be more likely to secure the election of Gen. Taylor, and advance the interests of the slaveholders of the South, than to secure the success of the principle for which they were contending—and the result proves that opinion to have been correct. The Free Soilers elected General Taylor. We saw what must be the inevitable tendency and result of their movement, and perhaps, on some occasions, used stronger language than might be deemed necessary—but we never insulted common sense, nor outraged common decency, by hurrahing for Free Soil in one breath, and in the next glorifying Zachary Taylor, and trying to cram him down the throats of the people, as the true free soil, free territory, anti-slavery candidate. Nor were we any more severe in our animadversions upon the Buffalo Convention, than the amiable Mr. Colfax himself.—Certain we are, that we never joined in an unprincipled mob, for the purpose of disturbing a meeting of Free Soilers, and stoning and stealing their colors, as was done by certain whig leaders at South Bend.

The election of Zachary Taylor gave a new phase to the matter. The Northern Democracy, finding themselves betrayed by the South, resolved every where to wash their hands of the institution of slavery, and to sustain such measures as may be deemed most effectual to prevent its extension. The Democratic State Convention, in January, declared, that "as the Territories of California and New Mexico are in law and in fact, free territory, it is the duty of Congress to prevent the introduction of slavery within their limits."

This is the position of the Indiana Democracy, deliberately expressed by one of the largest political assemblages ever convened at the Capital—and Zachary Taylor and his minions every where—the hypocrits who make the welkin ring with their shouts for Free Soil, and shame humanity and truth by voting to sustain and spread the institution of slavery, will find that this declaration was made in good faith, and will be sustained to the letter. We are not, in this respect, therefore, in advance of our party—but we stand with them, and will stand or fall with them. No cry of inconsistency, no parade of old extracts from our columns, no taunts, no epithets, will effect that position in the least. We have sworn in our wrath that the fraud and outrage committed on the American people, by the election of Zachary Taylor, shall be exposed—that he shall have opportunity of defining his position on the Wilmot Proviso—and let him shrink from that responsibility if he dare.

It is of no use to say that a whig can be as safely trusted on this question as a Democrat. Look at them in the last session of Congress. While Smith, Thompson and Dunn were giving the lie to their former professions, wooing in dulcet tones the spirit of Slavery, Cathcart, Petit, Rockhill, and other Democratic members, were resolutely doing battle for "Free Soil, Free Labor, and Free Men." The only safety is in electing men to Congress, who, having nothing to hope from Executive patronage, or to fear from Executive "frowns," will dare, on all occasions, to do their duty.—Such men the Democracy will nominate—such men the people will elect.—Goshen Democrat.

From the Pennsylvanian.

THE THIRTY-FIRST CONGRESS.—The ascertained result of the Virginia congressional election is a thrilling appeal to the democracy of the whole country—an impressive proof of power without patronage, and devotion without clamor. Almost at a blow that historic old Commonwealth annihilates the hopes and majorities of federalism. Instinctively she has penetrated the thin disguises of a profligate party, reading the dangerous projects which threaten the country, with intuitive sagacity. The hollow promises of Gen. Taylor—however honestly made at first—are now only alluded to with pity, while the bold bad men who are leading him to trample these promises under foot, are universally regarded with indignation. Virginia saw her duty in this crisis, and has discharged it with noble and heroic perseverance. She appreciated the danger of the country, placed unreservedly in the hands of an administration thus headed and controlled. She knew that if Gen. Taylor's cabinet cared so little for him as to induce him to dishonor his own plighted faith, they would care less when they came to apply their abandoned policy to the country at large. The worst schemes of federalism—the rejected elements of an effete banking system—the odious combination that plunders by a general improvement law—the system of tariff bounties—the gradual accumulation of debt by the increase of taxation—these are a few of the measures which the cheering example of Virginia may avert, by extending an encouragement to all the States that have yet to vote.—We thank her, therefore, ardently and sincerely, for her glorious victory over the cohorts of a party that has just returned from a field won through the divisions of an antagonist now united by a sense of common danger.

It is now ascertained that the following democrats have been elected to Congress in that State:

- I. John S. Millson,
- II. Richard K. Meade,
- III. Thomas H. Averett,
- IV. Thomas S. Bocock,
- V. Paulus Powell,
- VI. James A. Seddon,
- VII. Thomas H. Bayly,
- VIII. A. R. Holladay,
- IX. Richard Parker,
- XI. James McDowell,
- XII. H. Edmundson,
- XIII. F. McMullin,
- XIV. J. M. H. Beale,
- XV. Alex. Newman.

And the following anti Taylor man, elected against the administration candidate in district X—Jeremiah Morton.

If the other States that have yet to vote only follow the lead of Virginia, we may expect to see a working democratic majority in the next House of Representatives to aid the democratic majority in the United States Senate. We think the result will be about as follows in those yet to vote, exclusively of nine independents, already chosen:

	Dem.	Whigs
Members elected	54	60
Virginia has chosen	14—5 gain	1
Massachusetts to elect (May)	—	1
Rhode Island	1
Maryland	3—1 gain	3
North Carolina	3	6
Alabama	6—1 gain	1
Mississippi	4—1 gain
Lonisiana	4
Tennessee	6	5
Iowa	2
Kentucky	4	6
Indiana	8—2 gain	2
Texas	2
Missouri	5
	116	105

This estimate, which is moderate in all particulars, as any one, by examination, will perceive, would give the democrats a decided majority over both whigs and the nine independents. But of these independents at least half will be as often with the democrats as with the whigs! leaving the control of the House emphatically with the democracy!—

Said we not well—that Virginia has led the way in a glorious work?

"No crimes to punish, no friends to reward."—The Baltimore Sun of the 7th inst. contains the following list of official appointments by the President:

WASHINGTON, May 5, 1849.

Appointments of Members of Congress.—Mr. McDuffie's Remedy.—The Only Road to Office.—Washington's Fears of Legislative Influence.—Difficulties among the Cliques.—Seperate Organization, &c.

Much of the perplexity of the present administration arises from the bad usage which has gradually grown up of giving all offices to members of Congress and the persons designated by them. The usage is an innovation upon the "earlier Presidents." General Jackson was at one time opposed to the practice, but was compelled by the pressure of the numerous and able body of his friends in Congress to yield to it.

It was attempted by Mr. McDuffie to set up a barrier between the Executive and Congress, to hold any office during the term for which they were elected and for two years after the expiration of that term. His project, though supported with great zeal and eloquence, failed; and it was then seen and predicted that the last struggle for the independence of the legislative body was over—and that its members were to become the subjects of Executive bargain and sale.

The only road to office is now through the Senate and the House of Representatives.—Persons procure themselves or friends a seat in Congress, not for the purpose of serving the people, but of promoting their own sordid views through their connexion with the Executive.—It was a favorite principal with General Washington to keep the legislative body as far asunder from the Executive as possible, and he even gave this as a reason for placing the President's House at the distance of a mile and a half from the Capitol. But now members of Congress not only haunt the White House during the sessions, but during the recess of Congress. Under every administration many of these remain here, pressing continually for Executive favors for themselves or family connexions or friends.

It so happens that this system works less favorably under a whig than a democratic administration. The democrats, as a party, are more united than the whigs, and are disciplined into ready obedience and submission to the party determinations. But among the Whig captains in Congress and out of Congress, prevail fierce rivalries and violent dissensions, and General Taylor and his Cabinet are sadly perplexed by them. This accounts for their hesitation in regard to many appointments.—They are afraid to act, lest they give offence to one or another clique of the Whig party, in the several States and cities.

But it appears to be certain that, in all cases wherein they have acted, General Taylor has never yet been allowed to exercise his own choice. Scarcely one of his original friends has yet received any office. Should this state of things continue, there will certainly be a seperate organization of Taylor whigs, and of Clay whigs. Perhaps, indeed, there will be a third whig party, and they will agree only in one thing, to wit: hostility or indifference to the Taylor administration. The New York and Philadelphia appointments will be a signal for their new organization.

ION.

Proscription from Office.—We notice in all our exchange papers, accounts of removals from office. The Government organs at Washington are not permitted to show the public the full extent of this exercise of executive power. We doubt whether President Taylor himself knows it. In this county Capt. Hitchcock, a soldier who volunteered and did service in the war of 1812, has been removed from the Postoffice at West Troy. We notice in a Pennsylvania exchange that, an old democrat, whose son after doing gallant service, fell in the Mexican War, has been deprived of the moderate support of his office. Does General Taylor really know of these things, and does he believe he can throw the responsibility of such acts upon his subordinates.—Albany Atlas.

THE FARCE.—The Sanduskian of the 4th has a long article of glorification over Henry Clay, and abuse of free soilers, because it says Mr. Clay presided over a state emancipation meeting in Kentucky. We will not occupy the time by noticing the sermon which it preaches, because it is an old story that it has given so many times, it has lost all interest if it ever had any. But the text is badly taken. Col. Henry Clay, of Bourbon county, who presided at the meeting alluded to by the Sanduskian, is not, we believe, Henry Clay, the ex senator and would-be-president, and now discarded embodiment of whiggery, but another man by the same name. But suppose that the text of our neighbor was true. Is it any credit to the whig party after they have been compelled by the southern wing to discard Mr. Clay, because he was not sufficiently strenuous in favor of slavery extension?—It is just what those whigs who refused to support Taylor claim, that the embodiment of their party was beheaded at Philadelphia because there was danger that he might become a moderate emancipationist.—Sandusky City Mirror.

Mrs. Howard, who was indicted for murder in the first degree, for killing her husband's second wife or mistress in Cincinnati last winter, was acquitted after a trial of six days.—The verdict of the jury, after but two hours, was "not guilty," believing her to have been insane at the time the act was committed.

ARRIVAL OF THE CANADA.

The Canada arrived at Halifax on the 14th inst, with Liverpool dates to the 5th inst.

Another feeling of depression has come over the grain trade.

The weather, lately, has been very favorable to growing crops, which causes buyers to confine to their purchases to their immediate wants.

LIVERPOOL, MAY 5.

On Monday last, English wheat sold generally at a decline of 1s to 2s in quantities.—Foreign, also not in very limited demand although a similar deduction was accepted in the value of both.

Flour and Indian Corn.—A slight concession was made on the following day, at Liverpool. An animated demand for wheat and flour was experienced, and former prices were maintained. Indian corn was in brisk request and regained the depression last noticed. Indian meal sold at 15s. per bbl.

Yesterday the London market was dull and very little business doing. Flour was sold at 23s, and towards the close of business that price was not obtainable, although holders refused 22s. 6d. for considerable quantities, and home transactions have taken place at 22s. 9d. per bbl.

Prime Ohio is quoted at 23 to 25s. 6d.

Indian corn improved in demand—and sold at 31 a 32s. for white.

The imports of American grain and produce, during the past week, comprises 7510 bbls., and 29,016 quarters, of Indian corn, and 981 bbls. Indian meal.

Beef is in better request—prices steady, Pork lower—but western and eastern move off slowly.

Shoulders in good demand.

Lard in moderate request, the import being light. Holders firm. Little business doing in Cheese, the supply being short.

The Canada with 82 though passengers, arrived at Halifax on Monday at ½ past 6. P. M., making with two exceptions, the quickest passage on record.

Trade—France rapidly improving. Breach between the President and his cousin, N. Bonaparte widened to serious quarrel.

The Canadian affairs incidentally noticed in Parliament. The Ministry are very guarded in their expressions. Official notice of the intervention of Russia, in Hungary had been received at Paris. The number of men placed at the disposal of Austria is 90,000. Another account states the number at 150,000.—Hungarians have beaten the Austrians, and almost driven them out of the country. The greatest alarm prevails in Vienna, and has had effect to reduce Radetzky's demand on Piedmont from 123,000,000 francs, to 80,000,000.

The King of Prussia definitely refuses the Crown.

There has been slight outbreaks in Berlin.

War in Schleswig continues, and no prospect of peace.

More troops were to leave France for Rome. It is reported that those under Piedmont had reached their destination, and that the Romans had risen in favor of the Pope, and that Mayesnio and the Republican Government had fled, and the Pope would be compelled to grant not only an amnesty, but desirable reforms.—It is said that the Tuscan troops had entered Leghorn, and that the Sicilians were beaten at all points, and had virtually submitted to the King of Naples.

Accounts from India report a termination of the war in Punjaub.

AMERICAN CONSULS ABROAD.—The New York Tribune contains a statement of the official income of our Consuls abroad, by which it appears that no Consulate is at present worth ten thousand dollars. The largest amount received is by the Consulate at Liverpool, who in 1845 received nine thousand nine hundred and sixty-three dollars and five cents. The Consulates at Rio de Janeiro and at London are also worth nine thousand dollars. The next best are the Consulates of Havana and Glasgow, both of which yield annually upwards of six thousand dollars. St. Thomas and the Sandwich Islands each yield three thousand dollars; six other posts yield two thousand dollars per annum; eighteen are worth one thousand dollars; and the remaining ninety Consulates range from nine hundred to four dollars per annum, much the largest proportion of them being worth less than two hundred dollars. The Consul at Alexandria, in Egypt, receives a salary of two thousand dollars, and five in China receive a salary of one thousand dollars a year each. One at Beyrout receives a salary of five hundred dollars. Several of the minor Consuls have made no return of fees.

☞ The paragraph, in staring capitals, that Gen. Taylor despises duellists, is still going the rounds of the whig press. It seems that two midshipmen who were turned out of the service by Mr. Polk for duelling, made application to Taylor to be re-instated. He refused on account of the duel. Forthwith, the whig press make a great noise over it. They forget that Mr. CRAWFORD, one of his cabinet officers, killed his man in a duel! What a consistent set these whig politicians are.—Detroit Free Press.

Three Days Later from San Francisco.

Bad Weather—Scarcity of Gold—Steamer California lying Deserted &c.

By mail from San Blas, on the 29th March, via Mexico and Vera Cruz, the New York Tribune is in possession of advices from San Francisco to the 6th of March, three days later than those received on Tuesday, through the Mexican Monitor Republicano.

At San Francisco on the 6th, and for several days previous, the weather had been extremely unpleasant, and the snow was still remaining on the placer above.

In consequence there were but very few people coming in from the upper country, but a small amount of gold was received, and business was duller than it had been at any time for some months. The indications for the Spring trade were generally regarded as not so promising as we have hitherto had reason to suppose, though there was no doubt that a change in the weather would produce some improvement.

Owing to the fact that large quantities of the precious metal had been sent away as remittances to England, Valparaiso and elsewhere, gold had become comparatively scarce at San Francisco. The price of it was fifteen dollars and upward per ounce; but little could be had at fifteen dollars.

The mail steamer California lay at anchor in the bay. Her mates, engineers, and crew had all deserted immediately on her arrival, Captain Marshall having no power to prevent them from following their inclinations. Nobody was remaining on board except the Captain, and it was impossible to tell when or how he would be able to supply the places of his missing officers and men. Moreover, there was no coal to be procured at San Francisco, and it was reported that an agent had been sent to Vancouver's Island to see if a supply of coal could be obtained from there, but as to the result of his mission nothing was, as yet, known.

The deficiency of coal need not, however, have prevented the return of the steamer, if she had had a crew to navigate her, as wood enough to carry her out of the bay could at any time be obtained at San Francisco; and once at sea, the trade winds blowing down the coast would have brought her to San Blas in from ten to fifteen days, using her sails only. At either San Blas or Mazatlan there is coal belonging to the line.

From San Blas our advices are to the 29th March. The steamer Oregon arrived there on the 22d March, and sailed for San Diego direct, with the intention of not stopping at Mazatlan, as she was unable to take on board any more passengers.

A New York engineer, who was at San Blas, went up in the Oregon to San Francisco, having entered into an agreement to run the California for a few trips until some permanent arrangement could be made to fill his place, when he would leave for the gold mines, according to his original intention.

Captain Pearson, of the Oregon, aware of the desertion of the crew of the California, had resolved to use every effort to prevent such a misfortune from occurring to his own ship. It was his determination to apply to the Commander of the station for a guard of Marines sufficient to prevent his men from going off.

There was a good deal of complaint made by the captains of both steamers on account of the inferior quality of the coal they carried.—This was American coal, and was found to be far inferior to that used by the English steamers in the Pacific.

The brig Cayuga was up for a return voyage to San Francisco, and would sail about the 10th April. She would carry one hundred and forty passengers. The hold, which had been filled up with berths, would hold a hundred: the house on deck fifteen, and sixteen could be bestowed in the cabin. The price to those who took places in the hold was one hundred dollars, and every berth would be occupied.

Several vessels had arrived at San Francisco, on their way north.

Some parcels of gold had been received at San Blas from San Francisco, but not to any large extent.

The advices from the latter place, like those which have come to us from there, represent the prospects of the Spring trade in California as unfavorable.

A large number of letters brought by the Cayuga from San Francisco had been sent forward from San Blas to the United States, but have not yet come to hand.

AUGUST ELECTION.

We are desired to announce the name of JAMES S. HAMILTON, as a candidate for reelection as County Commissioner. p.

We truly believe that the Great American Remedy, Vaughns Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture will destroy the whole principle of cure as laid down by the Medical Faculty. This Great American Remedy will cure twelve cases in every eighteen, which it is administered for, and that is a greater ratio than the experiments of the Faculty can show with their system. The explanation of the properties in Vaughn's Lithontriptic has never been given, the proportion of each is not known, but the singular result of the many trials of the article, the invariable good effect which follows is proof enough that it has no equal as a curative power, in the whole catalogue of remedies, let them come from the Faculty, or from Quacks, if any distinction can be made, which is doubted—less than 50,000 people have tried Vaughn's Remedy in the past twelve months,—a whole army of testimonials of the worth of this panacea, the greatest production of any age.—See our columns, get pamphlet, read, buy and be cured.

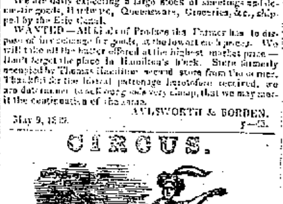
CIRCUS.



E. F. & J. Mabie, Proprietors.

Grand Olympic Arena & U. S. Circus,

CONSISTING OF 150 MEN & HORSES.

Manager............Mr. E. F. Mabie.
Equestrian Director............Mr. W. Waterman.
Clowns............Messrs. Sol. J. Lipman & John Wells.
Leader of the Band............N. Leibus.

THE Public of Fort Wayne and vicinity are respectfully informed that the above celebrated and superb establishment will be exhibited in this city, on

MONDAY, the 21st May,

[ONE DAY ONLY.]

In making the above announcement, the Managers would state that the company is composed of a full and efficient corps of distinguished performers.

The stud of Horses is allowed to be the largest, most beautiful and highly trained of any in America. The various performances will be remarkable for their novelty, splendor and effect, and the most suitable and magnificent appointments.

The Managers would assure the public that, by the unparalleled approbation with which the Olympic Arena and United States Circus has been received in every city and town which they have thus far visited, they are enabled to produce an entertainment far superior to any heretofore offered to the patronage of the public.

Among those composing the equestrian corps are the following artistes:

W. Waterman, H. Buckley, J. Goodspeed, A. Parker, B. Conrad, J. Turner, Lipman, Julian, and Master Aubner, the celebrated Holland Family.

These astonishing performers, known to fame and throughout the world as the Acrobat or Holland Family, whose services have been procured at an enormous expense, will appear in each performance.

The far famed John Wells, celebrated for his performances on the Violin, and as the Ethiopian Melodist.

The celebrated Wells Family—Miss Mary Ann Wells, Miss Amelia Wells, Miss Maria Wells, Mrs. Fanny Wells. The first in attraction and elegance is the young and beautiful Equestrian, Miss Mary Ann Wells. We just then exist in the public mind of the extraordinary accomplishments of superior merit, coupled with excellence of private character, as is the case with this charming artiste. Her wondrous Equestrian Representations are to be given on her most beautiful palfrey, and combine all the united effects, that personal charms, high talent, and grace of manner, can eminently impart. This young lady, whose sweetness of look and gracefulness of manner at once secures every beholder with a prepossession towards her, stands unrivalled by any female Equestrian in the United States.

Sol. J. Lipman, the celebrated American Jester and American Clown.

Mr. John Wells, the favorite Buffo Clown.

A celebrated BRASS BAND is attached to the company, consisting of picked and select performers, who will lead the procession mounted on 12 splendid horses—on entering each place of exhibition, performing some of the most new and popular music of the day.

☞ Doors open at 1½ and 7 o'clock, performance to commence at 2 and 7½ P. M. Admission—Boxes 51 cents, Pit 25 cents; Children under 10 in Boxes, half price.

The above Company will exhibit at Eel River P. O. on Saturday 19th, and Huntington Tuesday 22.

More New Goods.

S. & W. S. EDSALL have received their spring stock, making their assortment as complete, and at least equal to any to be found in the place.—The new arrivals comprise all the new styles of

Fancy Dress Goods,

Calicoes, Ginghams, Lawns, Trimmings, &c. &c. Drillings and Summer Goods of every description.

Groceries, Hardware, Queensware, &c. &c. &c.

We are not disposed to puff ourselves into notoriety, like some of our neighbors, as we believe it only spoils one's reputation; but intend that all who give us a call shall be satisfied that better bargains can be had at this establishment than at any good house in the city. Those who prefer genuine good articles at fair prices will find this the place to purchase. Persons living in the country, even if they do not want to trade over $5, will save money, by harnessing up their teams, coming here and getting articles they will have some satisfaction in wearing, instead of trading with those Itinerant Israelites who are now flooding the country with their trash.

A SAVING OF AT LEAST FIFTY PER CENT will be the natural consequence of taking this advice. Call and try.

May 12, 1849.

Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that from and after the 23d inst. all DOGS found running at large within the city limits, not having a collar upon their necks and the initials of the owner's or master's name upon it will be KILLED.

By order of the common council,

Attest, WM. STEWART, Mayor.
O. P. MORGAN, Recorder.

City of Fort Wayne, May 7, 1849.

New Styles of Dress Goods are peculiarly rich and becoming; their stock of Bonnet Ribbons, is beyond comparison the best ever seen in the west; and as for Lawns, Ginghams, Delaines, Calicoes, &c., &c., the half of what might truly be said about them would not be believed. Therefore a general invitation is extended to all to call and judge for themselves.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

Protection

Fire & Marine Insurance Company

THE subscriber has been appointed an Agent of the Protection Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and is authorized to

Insure Dwelling Houses, Stores, Warehouses, Mills, Manufactories, Barns, Stables,

and the contents of each, together with every other similar species of property

Against loss or damage by Fire.

The subscriber is also authorized to issue Policies on the most favorable terms

Against loss or damage on the cargoes of Steam, Keel, Canal, and Flat Boats, while navigating the Western Rivers, Lakes, and Canals.

On account of the liberal patronage heretofore extended to said Company, they have been enabled greatly to reduce their rates of Insurance, so that now every man has an opportunity, for a trifling sum, to protect himself against the ravages of these destructive elements.

For terms of Insurance, apply to the subscriber, at the office, of John Hough, Jun., corner of Calhoun & Columbia Streets, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

R. D. TURNER,

Dec. 1, 1848. At the Indiana Land Agency.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING BEEN appointed an agent for said company, is authorized to make every kind and manner of Insurance appertaining to Life Risks, for a certain number of years or for life, grant annuities, and confer endowments.

The provisions of the charter of said company are peculiarly favorable to the assured—containing many important privileges, which experience has proved may be safely granted, and which are deemed superior to any heretofore offered in this country.

Married women may insure the lives of their husbands, secure from the demands of creditors.

Creditors may insure their debtors, or debtors themselves, for the benefit of creditors.

The assured after a term of years, may at any time surrender the policy and receive its equitable value in cash.

The subject of Life Insurance is attracting much attention in the Eastern States, and commends itself to the favorable consideration of all, as by this means a comfortable support may be left to the wife and children when misfortune comes upon them, and the husband and father is taken from their embrace by the cold hand of death.

Pamphlets explanatory of the uses and benefits arising from Life Insurances, will be furnished those wishing to be insured.

The undersigned is also agent for the HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, HARTFORD, CONN.

There is no real occasion for sickness!

Dr. Ralph's Pills,

FOUNDED on the only principle on which a UNIVERSAL MEDICINE can safely and conscientiously be recommended to the world They are fast superceding every other remedy for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Acidity, Heartburn, Costiveness, all Impurities of the blood, Biliousness, Liver Diseases, Fever & Ague, the diseases of WESTERN CLIMATE, &c. The reason is obvious—they act in

PERFECT ACCORDANCE WITH NATURE.

Their operation is exceedingly mild and pleasant, and if taken in accordance with the directions, which are remarkably plain and clear, and to perfectly prevent disease of every kind (see explanation of the new theory in the 'Italphian' an invaluable paper which may be had gratis of the agents.) Their unexampled success in all the complaints of FEMALES, and those also attending pregnancy, is acknowledged by thousands.

THEY CANNOT FAIL TO CURE

NO FEMALE SHOULD BE WITHOUT THEM.

Testimonials of cures, of every disease the human system is liable to, often after all other means had failed, are consequently being received at the Central Office, N. Y. City.

Price 25 cents a box, with full directions, and Family packages at $1, (in which is much saving.)

J. B. Hanna, Fort Wayne, having been appointed general agent, will supply this celebrated medicine, wholesale and retail, on the same terms as at the Central Office.

June 13, 1848. 39

Read the following testimony from W. W. Steevens, principal of the Classical & Commercial Academy, Fort Wayne, Ind.:

"Having had repeated opportunities for the last fourteen years of witnessing the great benefits various persons have derived from the use of Doctor RALPH'S PILLS, and knowing Doctor I. RALPH to be a graduate of the University of Edinburg, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, and of the Medical College of the State of New York: also a Physician of long, Extensive and successful Practice, I cordially recommend said Pills to all who may be afflicted with diseases for which the Pills are recommended, believing they will perform all that is promised for them if the directions for using them be strictly followed.

W. W. STEEVENS.

Fort Wayne, July, 1848.

"DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request I would state that I have used Doctor RALPH'S PILLS in my family for something like ten years, and am satisfied that they are an excellent family Medicine. GREAT AMERICAN REMEDY

WESTERN NEW YORK
COLLEGE OF HEALTH.
207 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
DR. G. C. VAUGHN'S
Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture!

THIS celebrated remedy is constantly increasing its fame by the many cures it is making

ALL OVER THE WORLD

It has now become the only medicine for family use, and particularly recommended for

DROPSY:

all stages of this complaint immediately relieved, no matter of how long standing. See Pamphlet for testimony.

GRAVEL,

and all diseases of the urinary organs; for these distressing complaints it stands alone; no other article can relieve you and the cures testified to will convince the most skeptical; see pamphlet. Liver Complaint, Billious diseases,

FEVER AND AGUE.

To the Great West especially, and wherever these complaints prevail this medicine is offered.

NO MINERAL AGENT,

no deleterious compound is a part of this mixture, it cures these diseases with certainty and celerity, and does not leave system torpid. See Pamphlet.

PILES,

a complaint of a most painful character, is

IMMEDIATELY RELIEVED,

and a cure follows by a few days use of this article: it is far before any other preparation for this disease, or for any other disease originating from impure blood. See pamphlet.

DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM,

weak back, weakness of the Kidneys, &c., or inflammation of the same, is immediately relieved by a few days use of this medicine, and a cure is always a result of its use. It stands as

for such complaints, and also for derangements of the female frame IRREGULARITIES SUPPRESSIONS, painful menstruations. No article has ever been offered except this which would touch this kind of derangements. It may be relied upon as a sure and effective remedy, and did we feel permitted to do so could give

as proof of cures in this distressing class of complaints. See pamphlet. All broken down, debilitated constitutions from the effect of mercury, will find the bracing power of this article to act immediately, and the poisonous mineral eradicated from the system. ERUPTIVE DISEASES

will find the alterative properties of this article

PURIFY THE BLOOD,

and drive such diseases from the system. See pamphlet for testimony of cures in all diseases, which the limits of an advertisement will not permit to be named here. Agents give them away; they contain 32 pages of certificates of high character, and a stronger

ARRAY OF PROOF

of the virtues of a medicine, never appeared. It is one of the peculiar features of this article that it never fails to benefit in any case, and if bone and muscle are left to build upon let the emaciated and lingering invalid

HOPE ON,

and keep taking the medicine as long as there is an improvement. The proprietor would

CAUTION THE PUBLIC

against a number of articles which come out under the head of SARSAPARILLAS, SYRUPS, &C.,

as cures for Dropsy, Gravel, &c.: They are good for nothing and concocted to gull the unwary;

TOUCH THEM NOT.

Their inventors never thought of curing such diseases till this article had done it. A particular study of the pamphlet is earnestly solicited.

Agents and all who sell the article are gratuitously. Put up in 30 oz. bottles, at $2; 12 oz. do at $1 each—the larger holding 6 oz. more than two small bottles. Look out and not get imposed upon. Every bottle has "Vaughn's Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture," blown upon the glass the written signature of "G. C. Vaughn" on the directions, and "G. C. Vaughn, Buffalo," stamped on the cork. None other are genuine. Prepared by Dr. G. C. Vaughn, and sold at the Principal Office, 207 Main street, Buffalo, at wholesale and retail. No attention given to letters unless post paid—orders from regularly constituted Agents excepted; post paid letters, or verbal communications soliciting advice, promptly attended to, gratis.

Offices devoted exclusively to the sale of this article—132 Nassau street, New York city; 295 Essex street, Salem, Mass. and by the principal Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, as agents.

Cash for 20,000 Bushels OF WHEAT,
At the Empire Mills.

WE are prepared to pay Cash and the HIGHEST PRICE for 20,000 bushels of good merchantable Wheat.

Farmers and Teamsters will save themselves much trouble and expense by driving directly up to the STONE MILLS and unloading; they will always get the highest price, and avoid the annoyance of being pestered by the barkers and whipper snappers from the Stores, who now infest our streets and are such a bore to all who bring wheat to our market. We are not much given to boasting; but as some of our neighbors are talking of wanting 10,000 bushels of wheat, we would inform wheat raisers that we can take in 20,000; as our Mill, besides being the best, is the biggest, the highest, and the strongest in the country. We have a convenient WAGON-YARD and STABLE, for teams coming to the Mill, and a HOUSE for the Teamsters; we always furnish feed for the horses, and occasionally throw in Supper and Breakfast for their drivers. This is nothing new with us—we have always thought it our duty to do so, and should not now mention it if our neighbors had not set the example.

We keep constantly on hand FLOUR OF THE BEST QUALITY and all kinds of Mill Stuff; and promptly grind every thing in the shape of Custom Work—always excepting White Oak Tan Bark, or the "face of the Poor."
